Give Appeal For Backing In Uprising

Shooting Started In Havana Section, Spreading Rapidly

HAVANA (AP) — Rebels seized Cuba's largest radio and TV stations today and broadcast an appeal for sympathizers to rise in arms and fight against the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

The rebels called for an immediate general strike. Soon afterward workers in the telephone company and other utilities began leaving their jobs and communications were crippled.

Shooting began at 11:30 a.m. in the waterfront district near the Banco Continental. This is the San Isidro District in the old part of Havana.

Most Banks Closed

The firing rapidly spread to other sections of the city.

Rebel forces also seized an arms shop.

Most banks in Havana closed and in others employees suddenly quit work.

Most of the heart of the city appeared to be calm and there was no sign of rebel activity around the presidential palace or key government buildings.

In the American-owned First National City Bank about half the employees walked out.

Two heavy bomb explosions occurred at noon.

Rebels set fire to the headquarters of radio station CMQ, one of the largest in Latin America. The building also houses CMQ's TV station. The building is situated near the Hotel Nacional in the western part of the city.

Earlier, Fidel Castro said his rebels desperately need more guns and ammunition.

Castro said in a bulletin from his Sierra Maestra headquarters that his guerrillas are poorly fed and badly armed but will wage a total war until the tyranny of Batista is overthrown.

They will do that, he said in a note of bitterness, while some anti-Batista leaders are living in luxury hotels in Miami, Fla.

The rebel leader headed scores of the junta of liberation, formed in Miami last November by groups opposed to President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro aimed his luxury-living charge specifically at former President Carlos Prío Socarrás and Cuban millionaire José Alemán.

Indicted On U. S. Charge

(Prío Socarrás, living in Miami Beach, Fla., is under indictment on U. S. charges of plotting sabotage and assassination against the Batista regime and shipping arms and men to the Cuban rebels.)

Castro blamed the exiled political leaders for the recent U. S. seizures of arms intended for him. He said his forces had not received the help they needed.

Pressing a concerted drive against Castro, the government yesterday sent new troops into Oriente.

About 700 soldiers were flown from Havana to Santiago de Cuba.

Ford Orders Furlough At Plant In St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. Friday will lay off some 400 workers, about a quarter of the production force at its St. Paul plant.

A company spokesman said that starting Monday production of new cars will be reduced from 47 to 32 hourly, or from 376 to 255 during an eight-hour day.

Rich Texan Enters Contest For Senate, Integration Foe

DALLAS (AP) — Former Sen. William A. Blakley, a millionaire Democrat who has attacked the Supreme Court's antisegregation rulings, announced for the Senate yesterday.

The states' rights defender, a Dallas attorney, entered the July Democratic primary.

Conservative Democrats have long urged Blakley to run for the seat now held by Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D), who has the support of liberals.

Blakley also has attacked the Eisenhower administration's money policies and what he called labor political managers.

Senator Sees Jobless Hike As Bad News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today the latest employment report still shows a need for reasonable recession remedies instead of reliance on hope and faith.

"It's good to receive less bad news than we had before — but it's still not good news," he said of a government job report for March.

The report showed that unemployment increased by 25,000 to 5,198,000 and employment rose by 323,000 to 62,311,000. Humphrey said even so small a jobless increase was disheartening because there is normally a substantial unemployment decline in March.

President Eisenhower said the figures showed a pickup in jobs and a leveling off in unemployment indicating "a slowing up of the decline" in business.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said he has felt all along the recession would be short-lived and believes it hit bottom in March. He predicted employment would be back to normal by year-end.

But AFL-CIO President George Meany viewed the new job figures as indicating a deepening recession. He said "there isn't a single ray of sunshine" in the economic picture when one considers continuing drops in manufacturing orders, retail sales, industrial production and consumer income.

In New York, Secretary of Commerce Weeks predicted more employment and less unemployment for April.

"By this I do not mean we are out of the woods," Weeks added, "just that the trend has started in the right direction."

Six Pupils Hurt As Bus Plunges

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — A school bus with six Amish school children aboard went out of control and plunged into a small creek near the neighboring community of Amity yesterday, injuring five children and the driver.

Three children were taken to Memorial Hospital in Marysville, where they were reported in fair condition.

Rainy, Cooler Weather Seen

BALTIMORE (AP) — Five-day forecast: Temperatures will average three degrees below normal. Rain Thursday afternoon and night may be mixed with some snow at higher elevations. Rain Friday. Showers in the east and possibly snow flurries in the mountains Saturday. Rain again Monday.

Judy Garland Income Taxes Paid In Court

NEW YORK (AP) — Judy Garland has her jewelry and costumes again and New York state has $8,673 the singer owed in back income taxes.

Two certified checks, one covering $262 in court fees and interest and the other the back taxes, were handed over by the singer's attorney Maurice Greenbaum.

He refused to reveal who put up the money. He said it was given to her by "someone who had trust in Judy."

Miss Garland did not appear in court. Greenbaum gave the checks to an attorney for the State Tax Commission in the chambers of Acting Justice William B. Groat of New York State Supreme Court.

Groat released a suitcase full of jewelry and six stage costumes Miss Garland had put up to guarantee payment.

Miss Garland was scheduled to appear in court last Thursday to straighten out her tax bill for the years 1951 and 1952. When she failed to appear she was placed under civil arrest and ordered to put up a $10,000 bond for her re-appearance.

Actress Names Sabrina In Suit For Divorce

LONDON (AP) — Sabrina, the British showgirl with the 41-inch bust, has been named co-respondent in a divorce case brought by Viennese actress Kim Parker against TV star Paul Carpenter.

Both Sabrina and Carpenter, who is Canadian-born, denied his wife's charge and said they would fight the suit.

Nuclear Test End Possible, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he would very seriously consider calling off further U. S. nuclear tests if this year's Pacific series produces all needed research information.

Eisenhower told a news conference that if such results are achieved or largely achieved it would be perfectly proper for him to declare this country's intentions — not by some international agreement, but by independent U. S. action.

But he said that as things now stand the scientists would first have to tell him exactly what it was necessary to find out about the further development of atomic explosives. Then, he said, they would have to tell him the degree to which the tests had succeeded in producing the necessary information.

Eisenhower also told reporters he thinks some parts of a new report by Dr. James R. Killian Jr. on a detection system for policing an international test ban agreement might be made public. Killian is the President's top science adviser.

Eisenhower confirmed a statement by Secretary of State Dulles yesterday that Killian and his aides have decided it would be necessary to have more detection stations in Russia than had previously been recommended by Harold Stassen, Eisenhower's former disarmament adviser.

Sputnik Likely To Burst After Taking Plunge

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Scientists say the Soviet Sputnik II with its dead dog is expected to burst apart when it plunges from outer space Saturday.

The scientists at Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said last night the burst, if it occurs, will be caused by the air tanks that kept the dog passenger alive for some time after the satellite was launched last Nov. 3.

If the final plunge is at night, they said, the satellite will look like a flaming meteor.

GOP Rebel Vote Victor In Primary

Illinois Treasurer, Shunned By Party's Leaders, Wins Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Warren E. Wright, shunned by the Republican organization in his bid for a third term as state treasurer, won the GOP nomination in the major contest in yesterday's Illinois primary.

The 65-year-old veteran Republican took the lead at midnight after trailing in the early tabulations with main support from downstate and suburban Cook County.

Wright appeared headed for a victory margin of more than 70,000 votes over Louis E. Beckman, 44-year-old state representative who was supported by the Republican organization headed by Gov. William G. Stratton. Both Stratton and Beckman conceded Wright's victory early today.

First U. S. Primary

Wright's nomination highlighted an otherwise comparatively dull primary — the nation's first this year. The turnout, despite generally clear, mild weather, was reported one of the lightest in 20 years. A total vote of about 1½ million, or 30 per cent of the state's some five million registered voters, was indicated.

Wright, of suburban Park Ridge, served two terms as state treasurer, 1941-43 and 1953-57. He was more widely known throughout the state than Beckman, of Kankakee, who made his first bid for a state office.

In returns from 8,060 of the state's 9,839 precincts, including 3,782 downstate, Wright had 280,557 and Beckman 224,915.

In the second statewide race, the GOP contest for superintendent of public instruction, the Republican organization candidate smothered his opponent.

The Democratic nominees for state offices were unopposed.

Three veteran incumbent Republican representatives in Congress won re-nomination in their downstate farming-industrial districts in the only tests in 14 of the state's 25 congressional districts.

Thus, barring upsets in November, the state's delegation lineup in the next Congress will be 14 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

Gerald W. Smith, superintendent of schools in suburban Elmwood Park, won the GOP nomination for superintendent of public instruction, defeating Lar Daly, a Chicagoan who has been an also-ran in a number of elections.

Smith had 308,909 to 85,078 for Daly in returns from 7,243 precincts.

Two Miners Die In Blast

CARBO, Va. (AP) — An "ignition" at a Clinchfield Coal Corp. mine last night killed two men and injured four others.

Ralph Huffman, production manager, said the "ignition," which differs technically from a gas explosion, was caused when a pillar fell and forced gas from one section of the working face to another.

The accident occurred at the company's Moss No. 2 mine, some 30 miles east of the West Virginia line.

Clyde Large, 26, and Jeff Steffey, were killed.

Truck Drivers Drop TV Strike Support

NEW YORK (AP) — Union truck drivers in New York City have withdrawn their support of technicians on strike against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The walkout of television and radio engineers, cameramen and other technicians went into its third day today.

The technicians got the Teamsters' backing long enough to keep some scenery and props from some television shows.

John J. O'Rourke, president of Joint Council 16 of the Teamsters Union, said during the day that the Teamsters would respect picket lines thrown up by striking CBS employees.

Last night, at a meeting of the local unions affiliated with the Joint Council, a temporary decision was made to drop this support and to take the matter up again if the striking technicians formally request Teamster support.

Some programs went on without a full complement of scenery and props. CBS said, however, that its programming improved "vastly" over Monday. Makeshift crews of supervisory and executive personnel are handling cameras, microphones and other technical equipment.

The strike also involves the CBS radio network, but its operations have not been hampered.

A live Red Skeleton program set for last night from Hollywood was canceled and a kinescope of an earlier Skelton show was substituted — the only program not to go on as scheduled. CBS promised "a normal program schedule" on TV today.

The network has canceled the live presentation of two shows tomorrow night. Climax will offer a filmed repeat. Playhouse 90 will present a filmed drama not previously televised. Both programs originate in Hollywood.

Airline Pilots' Strike Ordered

CHICAGO (AP) — The Air Line Pilots Assn. has ordered a strike against American Airlines April 16 in support of its demand for higher wages.

C. N. Sayen, ALPA president, said last night 1,541 pilots will walk off their jobs at one minute before midnight local time.

Eisenhower Gives Views During Quiz

Jobless Figures Show Uptrend Has Started, He Cites

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he sees no need for any emergency anti-recession action—such as a tax cut—at this time.

Commenting on the latest unemployment figures, the President told a news conference he believes there are real grounds to conclude that the economy is on the up-grade.

The government announced yesterday that unemployment increased by about 25,000 in the month which ended in mid-March. There were much larger increases during the preceding several months.

Usually Rises In March
March is normally a month when employment climbs as the weather moderates and permits outdoor work.

The first question put to Eisenhower at the conference was a request for his views regarding a possible tax cut.

In reply, Eisenhower first noted that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has promised to consult with Democratic as well as Republican congressional leaders before the administration takes any tax action.

Then the president went on to say he sees nothing in the unemployment figures that brings the situation to a critical point and requires a decision on taxes at the moment.

It was Eisenhower's third meeting with newsmen in as many weeks—and the first time he has held news conferences three weeks in a row since last August.

The discussion ranged over many topics.

DEFENSE — Eisenhower said vigorously that he doesn't care how many in Congress may oppose his defense reorganization plan—he intends to fight for it with every means at his command.

That will include, he added, going to the nation on television just as frequently as the TV networks will grant him time, if that should become necessary.

Eisenhower also said it makes no sense at all for anyone to fear that the reorganization plan would concentrate so much power in the hands of the secretary of defense as to make him a czar.

Among safeguards against any such development, he said, are the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Congress itself, and the National Guard organizations.

Sees Plan Succeeding

Eisenhower predicted the reorganization plan will, as he put it, go swimmingly once it is well understood.

Janitor's Wife Has Quadruplets, One Infant Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quadruplets — a girl and three boys — were born to a janitor's wife last night, but the girl died.

Sister Mary Rose, administrator at Mary's Help Hospital, said the three boys were doing fine, and weighed three to four pounds each.

The mother is Gladys McGraw, 19, wife of Ian McGraw, 22, an employee of a janitorial service. The couple had no previous children.

"I'm really surprised," said McGraw, a native of Scotland.

Nathan, Long Non-Believer, Became Catholic Last Year

NEW YORK (AP) — George Jean Nathan, caustic drama critic who once described those who believed in a hereafter as "aboriginal," died a member of the Roman Catholic faith.

A sharp-tongued iconoclast who prided himself on being a hedonist most of his life, Nathan was baptized a Roman Catholic Oct. 9, 1957. It was learned shortly after he died yesterday at 76. He had been ill two years.

Nathan received the last rites of the church Friday from the Rev. Charles McManus of St. Patrick's Cathedral, the priest he had long been attracted to the Catholic faith, Father McManus said.

"During the months after his entrance into the church, Mr. Nathan revealed that he had long been attracted to the Catholic faith," Father McManus said.

Fast Test For Cancer Developed

Three Minutes Required For Inexpensive Checkup

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A three-minute test for cancer, which flashes red for danger and green for safety, is being tried out here.

More than 4,000 persons have been tested so far. The test's originator estimates it is wrong in no more than 3 to 5 per cent of the cases.

Dr. Ludwig von Bertalanffy, who developed the procedure, told about its early trials in a meeting with science writers touring research projects sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Among 700 women suspected of having cancer of the cervix, or neck, of the womb, the test found 58 cases indicating cancer and 57 of these turned out to have malignancies, Dr. Bertalanffy said.

Among 1,100 other women picked at random, who showed no outward indication of cervix cancer, it identified four as having malignancies and eight others as being suspected of the disease.

Dr. Bertalanffy, who did the work at Mt. Sinai Hospital here, said the procedure is inexpensive and can be used in a doctor's office. In expert hands, an examination can be made in three minutes, he said.

The tests, however, yields only what physicians call provisional judgments. But it can single out the suspicious cases and leave the final decision for established procedures.

A smear is taken on a glass slide. This may come from the womb, or from sputum in the lungs, or from materials in other parts of the body. Most of Dr. red, Bertalanffy's tests were made on cervical smears.

The smear is stained with a dye called acridine orange. This dye fluoresces under ultra violet light.

Two kinds of materials in cells take up this dye. One is called desoxyribonucleic acid, a matter in cell nuclei. The other is ribonucleic acid, which is a component of the part of the cell enveloping the nucleus.

Under ultraviolet light, the nucleus gives off a bright green glow, while the other substance glows

Utica Newspapers Battle City Hall

UTICA, N. Y.—City Hall is making life hard for the Utica newspapers, which have been campaigning against crime and vice in this upstate city.

Mayor John T. McKennan refused yesterday to give news to William A. Lohden, a reporter for the afternoon Observer-Dispatch and the morning Press. The papers, members of the Gannett group, backed Lohden up and ordered him to return to his City Hall beat today.

The mayor's action followed a request last week by the city's Common Council for a federal investigation of the papers' advertising policy.

Claims "Distortion" — Lohden said McKennan, a Democrat, told him his reporting had been "prejudicial." In a statement later, the mayor asserted that the papers had "distorted, suppressed and misrepresented news of local matters."

However, McKennan said he would continue to give news to Ray Martin, another reporter who has been covering City Hall for several months for the Utica papers. McKennan said Martin was "fair."

Lohden, assigned to join Martin after covering recent investigations of vice in the city, commented: "If the mayor is going to make such charges, he should substantiate them."

Martin declined comment. Mason C. Taylor, executive editor of the papers, declared: "Mr. Lohden is an able, accurate and fair-minded reporter. He will continue to cover the City Hall beat."

The Democratic-controlled Common Council last Wednesday passed a resolution calling on the U.S. Justice Department to investigate the "monopolistic practices of our local newspapers." The resolution said advertisers in one paper were forced to advertise in the other as well.

"Retaliation" Charged — J. David Hogue, the papers' general manager, said they had been quoting individual rates for more than two months.

Taylor said the action was "obviously . . . intended as retaliation against the strong stand the Utica newspapers have taken against vice and crime."

Public attention was drawn to crime in Utica as a result of a national gangland meeting at Apalachin, N.Y., about 100 miles southwest of here, last Nov. 14. Three delegates were from Utica.

Three Left Dead In Bridge Crash

DETROIT — Three persons were killed when their car swerved into a truck on the Ambassador Bridge here last night, hitting back—like taking a retaliatory poke.

Patrolman Robert Peterson estimated the car was traveling 80 m.p.h. when it smashed into the halted semitrailer truck. The impact of the collision peeled the top off the car, which hit a guard rail.

The trucker, Thomas Boyce, 31, Windsor, Ont., said he had pulled to the side of the roadway and stopped when he saw the car approaching. He was not injured seriously.

Lana Silent After Torrid Letters To Lover Exposed

LOS ANGELES — Lana Turner was mum today on publication of her torrid love letters to Johnny Stompanato, handsome underworld figure slain by the actress' daughter.

Six letters, published yesterday in a copyrighted article in the Herald-Express, began with such endearing salutations as "Daddy darling" and "Dearest precious heart."

Her attorney said it would be unethical for Miss Turner to issue statements of any kind while her daughter Cheryl, 14, faces a Juvenile Court hearing.

Cheryl stabbed Stompanato to death last Friday night during a fiery quarrel between the 38-year-old actress and her curly-haired boy friend.

Miss Turner remained in seclusion yesterday. Her press agent said: "Miss Turner is in a very bad way. She's not holding up well at all."

The actress said Steve Crane, her second husband and father of Cheryl, will attend a coroner's inquest Friday probing the death of Stompanato, onetime bodyguard for ex-gambler Mickey Cohen.

Her attorney said Miss Turner will answer fully all questions put to her at that hearing.

Cheryl, who is being held in Juvenile Hall, is expected to testify.

Also called was Cohen, who told reporters: "Lana and Crane have shown no decency at all in this terrible accident. They wouldn't even tell Johnny's brother how he died . . . They didn't even offer to pay for the funeral — even if they did it for a grand-stand play."

In Chicago, Stompanato's brother Carmine, a barber, said he wants Miss Turner to take a lie detector test.

"Maybe if Miss Turner agrees to the lie test, we can find out what really happened," he said.

Carmine said he found it difficult to believe that his brother, a husky ex-combat Marine, could be stabbed by a 14-year-old girl. Carmine said he believed his brother was asleep when he was killed.

The government has acknowledged that Fidel Castro's guerrillas are receiving aid by air. The army claimed that one cargo plane was shot down while flying in supplies for Castro.

Ancient Greek Jokes Like Modern Gags, Book Reveals

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — When things were bleak in ancient Greece, and laughter was the best medicine, the Greeks had the words for it. With variations, we are laughing at the same words today.

There are no records to indicate whether ancient Greek after-dinner speakers began their talks: "A funny thing happened to me on the way to the Parthenon . . ."

But there are records of ancient Greek jokes, and these are collected in a new book written by Dr. Albert Rapp, professor of classical languages at the University of Tennessee.

"The ancient Greeks and Joe Miller" was printed in a special limited edition for the Roxburgh Club of San Francisco.

"If you were to read the stories of this joke book, your immediate surprise would probably be to meet that very familiar and now-absent-minded professor," Rapp observed.

Aristotle may have asked Plato if he'd heard the one about the professor who was invited to a wedding banquet. When it came time to leave, he said to the groom: "Good luck, and may you have many more."

A stock character of Greek jesters was the braggart. For instance: "A braggart, walking in the market place, saw his servant, who had just come in from the country. The braggart called out: 'Hello! How goes it on my sheep ranch?' The servant replied: 'One sheep is lying down, asleep. The other is standing up.'"

And this one about gabby barbers. Quoth the bard: "A wit was asked once by a chattering barber: 'How shall I cut your hair?' The wit replied: 'In silence.'"

State To Get $83,000,000 In Road Aid

Funds Provided In Federal Highway Bill Through 1961

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission says Maryland would get $83 million dollars in direct allocations through fiscal 1961 under the federal highway bill passed by Congress.

Included in the measure, now before President Eisenhower, is about $6,800,000 in emergency additions to funds already authorized for 1959.

The SRC said yesterday preliminary figures disclose the State would receive about $56,325,000 in interstate allocations for 1960 and more than 20 million dollars for primary, urban and secondary roads in 1960 and 1961.

The amount Maryland would receive in 1961 interstate funds was uncertain because no formula for distribution to the states for that year has been announced. But the total in federal funds for that year is the same as for 1960—$2,500,000,000.

In all categories, the federal bill provides more federal money for the State's 15 year highway program than was earlier anticipated.

Robert O. Bonnell, SRC chairman, said the emergency funds anticipated above funds already allocated for 1959 would permit quicker action on delayed projects which are part of the first 4-year phase of the program.

The commission is conducting studies to determine where the 1959 emergency allocation for primary, urban and secondary roads should be spent. Under the federal bill, Maryland would get $4,400,000 above the earlier allotment for 1959.

Bonnell said he felt spending priority should be given in large degree in counties where there is little or no spending for interstate highways.

Magistrates' Pay Increase Move Defeated

Trial Magistrates J. Milton Dick and Morris Baron yesterday requested an increase in their salaries in a letter to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson made a motion they be given a 10 per cent pay increase under the new budget to be adopted April 15. His motion died for want of a second.

Commissioner Wilkinson said he will recommend Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, to one of the vacancies on the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Pair Facing Death, Life Imprisonment

Young Men Found Guilty Of Slaying Woman Store Owner

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Leonard Shockley, 17, faces execution in the gas chamber and his brother, Harold, 22, faces life imprisonment for the knife slaying of Mrs. Sarah Hearn.

Both were convicted of first degree murder yesterday by three judges who heard the trial without a jury for two days.

The Shockleys are Negroes from Frankford, Delaware. Mrs. Hearn, a storekeeper at Boxiron, was white.

Leonard had admitted cutting the throat of the 39-year-old woman last Jan. 16. Harold was with him at the time.

The two were arrested seven hours later at their converted chicken house home. In statements, admitted as evidence, the two brothers said they intended to rob the Hearn store.

Harold's statement said that once in the store, Leonard hit Mrs. Hearn in the face, then pounced on her and threatened to cut her throat if she screamed.

"Leonard was on his knees when he slashed her across the throat (with a knife)," Harold's statement said.

Chief Judge W. Laird Henry Jr. told Leonard:

"This is as sad a case that has come before this court in many years. We have considered the sentence from every angle and we have been able to find nothing to indicate we should show leniency. There is no discretion for this court but to give you the death sentence."

Judge Henry told Harold: "We think you were there in an attempt to commit a felony of murder in the first degree. We are not satisfied that you participated in the killing. Therefore, we are giving you the lesser penalty."

Vaughn E. Richardson of Salisbury, one of three court-appointed defense attorneys, made a motion for a new trial. It was overruled. The case was transferred here to Dorchester County from Worcester County at the request of the court-appointed defense attorneys.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Spiritless Retreat

WE HEAR A GOOD deal of talk these days about the "beat generation," but not too much about who they are, what they think and do, and why they are "beat." Here and there, however, they are being put under the glass, and a clearer image is beginning to take shape. Mostly they're youngish, of course, and their favored haunts are San Francisco and New York. They make a specialty of avoiding work for pay. They deliberately seek out life at the most primitive levels they can find in the city setting. In all this there is purpose, or so they say. They are in rebellion against the organized society they see about them. They want no part of it. They want only to be left alone, to live according to their individual lights.

THEY BELIEVE the society they see is overorganized, domineering, crushing to the individual. But they will not fight it. They have no program of action, no politics, no wish to make over. That is why they are "beat." They are resigned, and they wish merely to withdraw from contact with all they dislike. They collect individual, isolated experiments for their own sake. Their lives are an assortment of these fragments. No large cause of any kind in any field of endeavor enraptures them. They believe they can understand juvenile crime better than most, because they sense in it a rebellion like their own.

IT IS POSSIBLE for many who hold places in organized American society to sympathize with the fact of the beat generation's revolt, without approving its shape and content. This is indeed the age when organization seems to creep into everything, when the Group presses down, when to depart from the decreed course or the accepted pattern is to run many risks. But a rebellion that has no constructive aims, that shies away from battle, is a spiritless retreat. Men who break bonds, who tilt with old ways of doing, who contest trends and the encrusting rigidities of society represent mankind at its exalted best. Men who simply run from life, seizing a few bright fragments as they go, tarnish and disfigure the very individualism they profess to cherish.

The Hard Way

WHEN THIS recession is over, and we hope it will be soon, we will have learned some hard lessons all over again. The business cycle has a life of its own, and it refuses to be wholly subdued by human masters either in government or business. We in this country had thought that with all the artificial floors and props put under the economy it was pretty secure against all but the mildest fluctuations. The dip we are in now probably will never turn into a major depression. But it is big enough to induce a little fresh humility among the confident manipulators of the economy. We were told, too, that business today was so diversified that it no longer would feel so sharp a jolt if the great auto industry sagged. About all that idea is good for today is a rueful smile.

Dangers Of Airways

WITH THE MAJOR airlines putting in force their own instrument-flying regulations on some of the nation's most crowded lanes, the air collision problem has appeared to ease. The frightening near-miss of a National Airlines plane heading into New York's Idlewild stirs new concern. The National pilot, Jack Guthrie, maneuvered brilliantly to avert a collision with another National plane coming head-on at the same altitude—8,000 feet. Some 60 lives were saved in the big plane, 15 in the smaller two-engine ship. But, of course, the last-minute dive should not have been necessary, and would not have been if all aircraft within 100 miles (20 minutes' flying time) of airports were somehow under tighter electronic guidance. Guthrie said he did not believe any negligence was involved on either side. That's the grimest comment he could make. With no one doing anything wrong, two planes almost met in mid-air at a cost of scores of lives. If faultless flying can bring two planes to the brink of tragedy, then the nation's air traffic control system is still a long way from adequate for today's teeming airlines.

Serious Splits Affect Both Major Parties

WASHINGTON — This recession year Congressional campaign, which will gather momentum following the Easter recess of the Senate and House, finds both parties seriously split.

The Republican split, which appears within nearly every state outside the South, stands to do that party more harm this fall. The regional split of the Democrats, which has been sharpened by its exclusively Texas leadership in Congress, will hurt them much more in the Presidential election in 1960.

EXISTING circumstances deepen the state-by-state nature of all Congressional campaigns. An aggressive Democratic Congress has largely seized the initiative from the Republican President, and the President has proved unable to unify his party behind his policies.

Preliminary soundings show that the Republican cleavage is already doing a great deal of damage to party morale. It is a genuine difference of opinion about what course the party should take. It is sometimes a case of internationalism versus isolationism, more often a conflict between orthodox Republican doctrine and a semi-yielding to the New Deal which is modern Republicanism.

THE RESULT is the same: a confusion and indifference which have an adverse effect upon the collection of campaign funds and upon party work.

When Midwest Republicans discuss the special elections that have given them so much trouble, they do not admit either that the voters admire the Democrats or are hostile to the President. They are much more apt to contend that nobody knows what Republicans stand for.

By this time Republicans are resigned to the fact that Eisenhower has no intention of being the day-to-day leader of his party in the sense that Roosevelt and Truman led theirs. Even the conservatives are not happy about it, but they don't see anything they can do.

THEY believe that National Chairman Meade Acland understands their problems and they are warming up to Sherman Adams, who is described as much more receptive to their gripes than he formerly was.

Vice President Nixon keeps his door open to party leaders and they appreciate it. They consider that relationship more in the nature of 1960 insurance, however, than a practical help since he has no power of appointment nor real legislative influence.

FOR THEIR part, Democrats are under no illusion that civil rights will be less troublesome as a 1960 issue than it has been in the past. The extent to which Northern and Western liberals will seek to achieve greater independence of the South in platform and candidate will depend in part on how well they do this fall.

But their resentment of the manner in which issues important to them have been blurred by the Johnson-led Senate is already in the open. Former Senator Herbert Lehman expressed it bluntly last week at a New York dinner in honor of his 80th birthday. The Democratic Advisory Council is another expression of it.

The Northerners and Westerners will try to sweep those differences under the rug in their campaigns this fall. They think the same attempt against the Presidential candidacy of Vice President Nixon in 1960 would be too great a risk.

Solons May Hear Sharp Remarks At Home

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Congress went home for its annual 10-day Easter recess with a clean record.

It hadn't done much. Congressmen will return to Washington in mid-April, wiser and perhaps sadder men. They could learn much from the constituents they visit while at home.

This could change completely the Congressional Record—there is four months to go before adjournment in time to campaign for the November elections.

The Congressional Record summary of April 1 showed 45 measures passed by both Houses and signed into law by the President during the first three months of this year.

This includes four appropriation bills.

Three are supplemental appropriations for the current fiscal year. They increase government expenditures by over four billion dollars—mostly for national defense. They were passed with cuts of only 10 million dollars below administration requests.

On the first regular money bill for next year—appropriating over four billion dollars for treasury and post office expenditures—the cut was only 13 million dollars. This is about one-third of 1 per cent.

This shows how last year's "economy drive" has evaporated.

ONE OTHER important change of congressional sentiment in recent weeks has been the shift away from national defense measures. More emphasis is now being put on programs to relieve the business recession.

The first two to clear Congress before recess will cost 3.6 billion dollars—1.8 billion to stimulate housing construction and 1.8 more for highways.

Congress also passed a farm bill to freeze price support levels. But that met a presidential veto. Overriding the veto would cost the government 290 million dollars.

Other anti-recession measures to be acted on after Congress returns include extension of unemployment insurance benefits, aid to depressed areas, easing of credit restrictions, possibly a public works program and last but not least an income tax cut and/or reductions in excise taxes.

THE WHITE House, for its part, has not been too speedy in getting its proposals before Congress.

Presidential plans for reorganizing Department of Defense and setting up the proposed National Aeronautics and Space Agency—NASA—just made it to the Hill before Congress recessed.

These are highly controversial proposals. They will call for prolonged hearings and much debate.

Other White House recommendations already before Congress are given little or no chance for passage. Included:

Proposals to shift responsibility from federal to state and local governments for disaster relief, civil defense, juvenile delinquency, child welfare, urban planning and other grant-in-aid programs.

AMONG THE important measures on which Congress will have to act are:

The 3.9-billion-dollar foreign aid and mutual security programs, postal rate increases to bring in 700 million dollars, increases in government pay scales to cost 444 million dollars, a 1.5-billion-dollar increase for surplus farm products disposal, a 145-million-dollar aid to science and general education program.

Additional high priority items on which there is no price tag:

Provision for presidential disability, sharing of atomic secrets with U. S. allies, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, reciprocal trade agreements extension, regulation of union welfare funds and various labor law amendments.

Nearly all of the public laws passed so far this year have been noncontroversial cats and dogs.

Among the 26 passed last month were such things as how to weigh the evidence on drunken driving tests in District of Columbia, giving Montana state police jurisdiction over Blackfoot Highway and changing the Petrified Forest national monument to a national park.

So They Say

I am one of those who had confidence in the free world from the beginning — if we cannot find the support of the West, I will be obliged to say that I have made a mistake.

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, threatening to turn his back on the West if the U.S. supports France in the Algerian dispute.

The fear of universal destruction (by nuclear weapons) may spare us the worst, yet the possibility of it will nevertheless hang over us like a dark cloud so long as no bridge is found across the worldwide psychic and political split.

Dr. Carl G. Jung, founder of analytical psychology.

There is beauty in space, and it is orderly... Everything in space obeys the laws of physics. If you know these laws, and obey them, space will treat you kindly. And don't tell me man doesn't belong out there. Man belongs wherever he wants to go—and he'll do plenty when he gets there.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — Are you from anywhere in the United States except New York and have you been saving your money to come here because you are tall, slender, gorgeous and a perfect model type?

Stay home, girl, and keep your money. You are, thanks to a concentration of fashion designers and a thing called the "sack," out of luck. The very tall, very thin, cheek-bone attenuated and sleek model can't get a job. She comes a dime a dozen these days and the little girl under 5' 6" with a little curvaceous padding in the places Nature intended it to be, is Queen of the model world.

She's earning $40 an hour and better for the simple reason that the sack looks well on her and looks terrible on her tall, thin sister.

DON'T TAKE my word for all this, although I am glued to the conviction that a tall girl in a sack looks like a soda straw in a paper bag. The authority is sound and undebatable: she is a tall, slender and extremely gorgeous girl named Roz Foy, who earns and has earned a comely penny as a fashion model and had the good, matured brains two years ago to foresee the revolution and she started a model agency.

Roz Foy and I had lunch the other day the kind of lunch that would drive most women shrieking into the hills. She had herring with sour cream, curry of chicken with a rich sauce spread over a mound of rice, plus chutney, and leveled it all off with a good, wide slice of pecan pie roofed with whipped cream. Every woman in the Absinthe House, nibbling at lettuce and a raw banana, could have killed her.

"I WALK," she said. "I'm not a taxi addict. I'm going to walk back to the agency after this lunch and it won't do a thing to me. I once visited in the South, in the rich gravy and pecan pie belt, and I waded in like a kid in a stream. Nothing happened. Then I went to Havana for two weeks and had Cuban food so rich they could store it in Fort Knox. But I also walked all over Havana and came back a pound less than when I started."

Miss Foy was making carnival with the curried chicken just then so I postponed a question until she had sent that away to clear the arena for the pie.

"Roz," I said, "is it true that the long-time empresses of fashion modeling are being shunted aside for chubby urchins these days?"

"NOT EXACTLY" chubby urchins," she said, "but short girls are coming into use for fashion work. The trouble is finding them. Now, don't go back to your lawnmower and write that short girls should come to New York as fast as they can get here because it takes more than being petite to get work. There is such a thing as experience.

"The average girl thinks all she has to do is look right and she'll be doing six hours a day at $40 an hour. The average girl would turn a fashion photographer into a case of the ills. They have to know how to pose, when to take certain stances, how to wear clothes, a hundred things that only experience can teach them. And, at the moment, few model agencies have time to run a school.

"WE ARE looking around for the kids we told, a year or so ago, 'Sorry, dear, nothing for your type.' We need little girls who can wear the sack without looking ridiculous — but they must be experienced. For some reason known only to Providence, tall, slender women look ghastly in a sack. They look somewhat dead and very much foolish. If the sack has done nothing else, it has given smaller women something to live for — looking fashionable.

"Most of the former top models were lean, race-horse type girls with a sort of Eiffel Tower structure. You know, legs like antennae, hollow cheeks, cheek bones way out to here, a sort of well-bred witch look. These girls simply cannot wear the sack.

"I've got a sack on which, as you see, is knit and has a turtle neck. What did I do, because I'm tall? I belted it in, giving front and rear some dimension, pinned this enormous topaz right here at the collar — and wore no other jewelry or adornment. If I'd worn this in here without a belt you'd have yelled: 'Look at Foy, stuck in the Holland Tunnel.'"

ROZ FOY does do some modeling although she runs the Foy Model Agency, one of the top agencies in the business. Her girls work for all kinds of ads — well, almost all kinds — from fashion to toothpaste to lingerie to motor boats to camp stoves, to whatever is being advertised in smart, four-color magazines and the best newspapers.

They earn from $35 an hour upward and she selects them with great care before signing them on and with even greater care before sending them on an assignment. They are the star girls of commercial modeling.

Roz is a star girl in the profession, too. But, unlike most models who don't run to being articulate, she can talk a streak in chosen words on a high level of choice. Besides which she has a sense of eruptive humor.

Gone But Not Forgotten

WASHINGTON—Our Congressmen now are on their Easter vacations, sitting on their piazzas and listening to their constituents, and I miss 'em. Oh, how I miss 'em.

There's nobody in the marble halls now except tourists trying on the statesmen's seats for size and swiping pinches of snuff from the Japanese boxes in the Senate, and there isn't much news in that.

I can only trust that the Gentlemen enjoyed their Easter dinners, that their crops are beginning to show above ground, that the voters still love 'em, and that they hurry back. They've got some interesting work still to do.

TAKE SENATOR Estes Kefauver, who's going to start an inquiry immediately into why so many people seem to have quit buying automobiles. His idea is that cars are too expensive because they've got too many dingbats plastered on 'em. I could have told him that from my own experience, but it will be a pleasure to hear the experts explain.

Senator K. also figures that the high cost of financing a sedan and insuring it has something to do with the lag in demand, and he'll have the money men on the carpet, too.

THEN THERE'S Senator John L. McClellan and Company, who managed to get Dave Beck fired from the Teamsters Union and who found assorted skullduggeries in four other national unions.

The Senators are just getting a good start. They'll be interested in public soon in the doings of certain laundry, tinsmith, and distillery workers union moguls in widely separated parts of the nation.

The inquiry into the troubles of the railroads will resume. The gentlemen will want to know more about the bathhouses we built for Egyptians along the Nile. The House isn't through with the free television sets of the communications commissioners; it also will look into the public lives of those who operate a dozen other Federal commissions.

THE GENTS also will have to write a few laws. They've passed four so far, but the President vetoed their farm price support bill. They managed to make stick their debt limit increase, their housing bill, and their multi-billion-dollar road bill.

The House in an unusual burst of speed has adopted nearly all the appropriation bills, mostly with generous increases, but the Senate has approved only four of them. There'll be some arguing about these.

The big battle will be over whether this is the time to reduce taxes. Many a jawbreaker who has to face the voters this fall figures that a tax cut could put many a mark on his ballot. The loudest talkers among the statesmen insist that we shouldn't be slashing taxes when we're still deep in debt.

THE FIGHT should be a rough one, and it may be a good thing that Speaker Sam Rayburn is plowing ahead with his scheme to put a solid $10,000,000 foundation under the Capitol dome. We wouldn't want the vibrations to shake it down.

The gentlemen also have yet to decide whether to charge four cents for a postage stamp, or five, and they're bitter about this, too. All I know for sure is now is the time to write letters; those purple three-cent stamps won't be with us much longer.

All these things, among many others, await the statesmen upon their return Monday next. I trust they'll be refreshed and that somehow I manage to survive the week without them.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Movie producer Jerry Wald, who likes to feel the public pulse, claims he knows what is the third most interesting thing in the world—to most people.

The answer may surprise you. It is sex. "I polled 8,000 librarians all around the world," he said, "and asked them what was the theme of the books people asked for most often.

"The No. 1 theme turned out to be survival. The second favorite theme was security. Sex was third."

"Pictures that show sex for sex's sake, or violence for violence's sake—they are no good anymore. They have no future," Wald's conclusion.

THE PORTLY producer, who looks like a modern Buddha—that is, if Buddha lived in Hollywood—says the film business has undergone a big change in the last year.

"You have to lift a picture now to the level of your audience," said Wald.

"They are more hep. They are better educated, entertainment-wise, than any other generation in our history."

Here are some more observations by Wald, an ex-newspaper gossip columnist who, at 45, is ranked as one of the smartest film executives:

"The greater danger in the entertainment field is to become a hitchhiker, who tries to copy yesterday's hit."

"Television has a monopoly on mediocrity today. It is being wrecked by the guys in the empty gray flannel suits."

"But TV has my sympathy. We turn out 500 hours of entertainment a year. They have to turn out 30,000 hours. How can it be good?"

"One of the problems we have in Hollywood is the need for more girls who look good in dresses, who can wear clothes and walk in them with an air of elegance. You'd be amazed how few can."

"ONLY ONE IN 10 patrons go to a movie alone. It's the women we have to please. A man doesn't usually go to a movie. He is brought to it by his wife, mother or girl friend—and she picks the picture."

"Any actor or actress who tries to get ahead by looking like a current star doesn't have a chance. You have to be original. Only the originals last—and they have to fight to do it. Bette Davis is an example. She wouldn't let them make her look like everybody else. She fought hard to stay original—and she did."

"Is the picture business washed up? How can any business that still does two billion dollars a year at the boxoffice be washed up? We talk ourselves into panics and self-induced paralysis."

"We're the only industry which, when it does something bad, tries to blame it on the audience. The people who make motor cars don't do that."

"Whatever is wrong with our business isn't the public's fault. It's ours."

(Associated Press)

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Now that we have established the solacing policy of blaming Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for nearly everything except overeating, wonder if we couldn't scapegoat him a little further and blame him for these form-concealing sack dresses. They have certainly reduced acreages.

Had the chemise monstrosities cast their blight at an earlier date we might never have appreciated a Marilyn Monroe, a Jayne Mansfield, or a Dagmar. We would have been robbed of one of the glories of our past.

The sorry change must be attributable somehow to Ez's passion for flexible supports, flexing downward. The current trend toward smaller tracts seems to be Bensonism at its most depressing.

The most disheartening thing about these sacks is that the feminine contents either fill them too much, or not enough. Like the Secretary of Agriculture, they are too flexible. The good old days of inflexibility are beginning to seem like a vanished dream.

Ez must have an affinity for the sacks, because virtually every farmer except President Eisenhower wants him sacked. There are critics who would deal even more drastically with the martyred Mormon elder. They would rotate him through other departments of Government, so people other than farmers would be aroused to clamor against him too.

ONE OF THE advocates of rotating Ez is Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, of Mississippi, who planted this seed with his colleagues the other day.

"In support of the need for a change, I am reminded of the early 1930's, a time of farm depression, when I was growing up in a north Mississippi agricultural community. Money was hard to come by, and times were tough; and we were unable to afford a full-time preacher."

"In view of the ability of some of our preachers to eat, frequently during revivals, different families in the community would keep the visiting preachers for a day and night, after which some other family would take on the responsibility. By that policy of passing our preachers around, taking care of them did not cost anyone too much."

"May I say again that while we Democrats haven't joined in a call upon the President to remove our Secretary of Agriculture, I do feel that, whatever reasons President Eisenhower has for keeping Elder Benson in his Cabinet, he should do as we once did in our community—the President should pass him around."

"If the President must keep him, if he would only transfer him to the position of Secretary of Labor, or Secretary of Commerce, or any other department, even for a short period of time, it would be only fair."

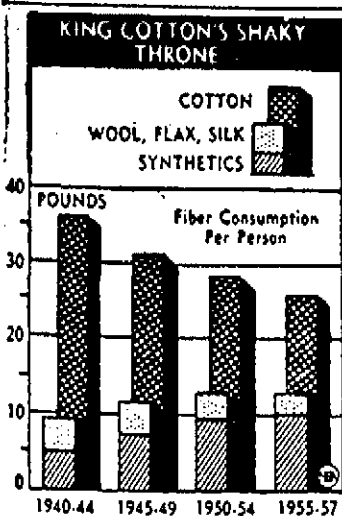

"If the President would get one of those departments to take Elder Benson for a year it might give our farmers a little chance to catch their breath; for truly, Elder Benson is just about to eat the farmers out of house and home."

I TRUST I AM NOT noted for maudlin sentimentality, but every time I hear one of these attacks upon the Secretary of Agriculture, I feel deeply for him. It seems unfair that he should have to take the entire rap for the Administration's farm policy. I just can't believe that Ez is doing all this strictly on his own. He must have at least one accomplice.

But, no matter what the result of the outcry against the poor fellow, he is almost certainly foredoomed to the same fate as will befall the courtiers if the chemise dress goes out of fashion. He'll be left holding the sack.

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears: Rise yesterday considered normal technical action following recent market action. Analysts feel increased volume necessary on upside to show any reversal current trend.

The more than $300 million that Southern Railway has spent on Dieselization in the last dozen years is now paying off, Hornblower and Weeks points out. The road's transportation ratio has been cut substantially. In addition, debt has been cut $56 million in the ten years through 1956.

Two promising television situations advanced by H. Heinz and Company are Columbia Broadcasting and Zenith Radio.

Fairmont Foods sales in the year ended February are expected to work out to about the same as the previous year.

Strength in American Can this week follows recommendation of issue as stock of the month by major advisory service.

Have You Ever Seen A "Prayer Book"?

If not, you've missed one of the most important publications in the English language. The Book of Common Prayer of the Anglican Communion (of which the Episcopal Church in the United States is a part) is, second only to the Holy Bible, probably the most widely printed and used book in the English language.

Records fail to show how many millions of copies of this unusual book have been printed and circulated since it was first issued by the Church of England in the sixteenth century. Sufficient to say that it has had a profound influence on the development of the English language as we use it today. The Prayer Book, in English and translated into many other tongues, is today the guide to worship for more than 40,000,000 Anglicans the world over.

It is called the Book of Common Prayer because we use it in "common", so that we may join together as participants in corporate worship — not as individuals, but as joint members in "the Body of Christ" — the Church.

The Book of Common Prayer is a thrilling document with a thrilling history. Learn more about it. Learn the great satisfaction of corporate worship by joining us in the worship of God in the Episcopal Church near you — soon!

You can learn more about the Book of Common Prayer by reading the interesting booklet "How We Got the Prayer Book". Send the coupon. It's free. No obligation.

Farm Work Delayed By Heavy Snows

Only Five Percent Of Corn Lands On Peninsula Plowed

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Farmers in the Maryland-Delaware area are having a rough time overcoming the effects of the snows during February and March.

Farm work has been set back about three weeks by the weather, according to crop and weather experts from the University of Maryland and the Department of Agriculture.

The experts' report for the week ending April 8 said soils still were too wet for plowing in most places.

On the Delmar peninsula, only five per cent of corn lands have been plowed.

Winter grains are beginning to green up and show a little growth in most sections, the report said, but many fields have spots still under water. A few spring oats have been planted on the Eastern Shore but hardly any have been seeded west of the Chesapeake Bay.

In the Dover early commercial potato area, only about 40 per cent of the crop was in the ground by last weekend. Only a fraction had been planted in similar areas of Worcester and Somerset counties.

Orchardists said apple trees generally were still dormant throughout the two-state area, except for the earliest summer apples. Peaches are expected to be in full bloom by the end of April in the important areas west of the bay.

UN Work Lauded, Failures Cited

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — United Nations Undersecretary Dr. Ralph Bunche has praised the U.N. for its efforts in preventing a major war, but criticized the organization for its failure to tackle problems before they become emergencies.

The Nobel peace prize winner spoke at Southern Methodist University in Dallas last night.

Bunche said it had been a major frustration to him that since the U.N. secured an armistice between Israel and the Arab states in 1949, almost nothing has been done there "to prepare the peace."

He was the U.N. mediator who achieved a cease fire in the Palestine dispute.

Bank Official Testifies At Hanna's Trial

U. S. Court Clerk Faces Charge Of Evading Pay Tax

FAIRMONT (AP) — The assistant cashier of the Charleston National Bank was a federal government witness today when the income tax evasion trial of Homer W. Hanna resumed in U.S. Northern District Court here.

Louis E. Miller, who was the government's fourth witness yesterday, identified checks made out to cash by the Hanna Insurance Agency of Charleston to the bank accounts of Hanna, his son Homer Jr. and Hanna's daughter, Mrs. Ida Lou Barr.

Hanna is charged with income tax evasions totaling $31,777 for the years 1949 through 1953. The present trial before Judge Sterling Hutcheson of Richmond, Va., is the second for Hanna on the same charge.

The first proceeding in October of 1956 resulted in a hung jury. Robert L. Dickson, an Internal Revenue Service agent; William B. Rowan, formerly connected with the revenue agency and John D. Eller, chief of the collection division of the revenue service's district office in Parkersburg, testified as government witnesses yesterday.

Rowan was the first federal official to contact the Charleston man in 1954 prior to the government's investigation of Hanna.

Hanna is clerk of the U.S. Southern District Court in the state, the president of the Hanna Insurance Agency and a former prominent Democratic political figure. He faces six counts of evading income taxes.

Yesterday's testimony involved Hanna's and the insurance agency's tax returns during 1949-53 and certain checks from the agency which were deposited in the Charleston bank under the accounts of Hanna or his wife.

U.S. Attorney Albert M. Morgan told the court he plans to present about 20 witnesses and would attempt to show that Hanna or members of his family received checks from the insurance agency which were not included in income tax returns.

Katherine T. Brawley operated the agency before she became Hanna's second wife. The first Mrs. Hanna died.

Judge Hutcheson indicated yesterday that he would permit reference to checks received by Hanna's son and daughter from the insurance agency during testimony. The prosecution requested that the present bank accounts of Homer Jr. and Mrs. Barr be brought into the trial as evidence.

The judge, in effect, compromised after an objection by Hanna's attorneys. William Bruce Hoff, Hanna's attorney, told the court Monday that all money Hanna received in checks from the agency was in the form of loans.

Because of Hanna's court position, all three federal judges in West Virginia have disqualified themselves from the trial.

Court Throws Out County Judgment

CHARLESTON (AP) — A Harrison County judgment by which a man convicted of maintaining a common nuisance was sentenced to six months in jail and a $500 fine was reversed yesterday by the Supreme Court.

The verdict against Louis Roda of Clarksburg was set aside and he was granted a new trial.

Judge Leslie E. Given dissented from the 4-1 decision and reserved the right to file a dissenting opinion later.

The appellate court held that evidence introduced in Roda's trial

Firemen Extinguish Fire On Pine Ridge

A brush fire on Pine Ridge was extinguished yesterday by Bedford Road Fire Company after the blaze had scorched over about two acres on land just inside the Pennsylvania line.

Indian pumps and grass rakes were used by the 14 volunteer firefighters. Smoke was heavy, firemen reported, since the vegetation was green.

Because of Hanna's court position, all three federal judges in West Virginia have disqualified themselves from the trial.

Three Sites Proposed For Montgomery Field

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A consulting firm has recommended three sites as suitable for a Montgomery County airport.

The recommendations by Thomas B. Bourne Associates Inc. were submitted to the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

The report will be forwarded to the Montgomery County Council, which must make a decision by April 15 in order to take advantage of federal funds to help purchase land.

Congressional Airport, south of Rockville, went out of existence when a shopping center was developed in the area.

The three recommended sites, with the estimated cost of developing each into an airport:

1. About 720 acres at the intersection of Maryland 28 and Shady Grove road, three miles west of Rockville: $1,800,000.
2. A tract of about the same size northwest of the new Atomic Energy Commission headquarters at Germantown: $1,700,000.
3. About 640 acres two miles north of Gaithersburg, at Maryland 114 and Snouffer School road: $1,400,000.

Official Gives Firing Reasons

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — The acting superintendent of the Somerset State Hospital says he fired the institution's business manager for insubordination and undermining hospital morale.

Dr. Gerald R. Clarke yesterday dismissed George Dayoob, from the $9,011-a-year job. State Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said Dayoob disregarded the superintendent's instructions and refused to execute certain orders.

Reorganized Guard Plans Under Study

Reckered To Fight Any Attempt To Eliminate 29th

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — A 2nd Army spokesman says no echelon of the Army can state specifically what unit or individuals will be affected in the reorganization of the National Guard and Army Reserve.

Military leaders from seven states were given a briefing here yesterday behind closed doors on the new setup, but the 2nd Army spokesman said the session dealt only with broad aspects of the reorganization.

He said the first step would be a study of troop bases. The 2nd Army would then develop its own proposals for implementing the overall plan in its seven-state area.

The spokesman estimated it would take six months to get the proposals drafted and approved. He said another two years would be required to put them into practice.

After the closed-door meeting, Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland unit, said Maryland guard officials "put them on notice that Maryland and Virginia will fight any attempt to eliminate their unit, the historic 29th Division."

The general Pentagon plan calls for reduction of the guard from 27 divisions to 21.

The Pentagon briefing team included Brig. Gen. Crayton W. Abrams, deputy assistant chief of staff for Army Reserve components; Lt. Col. J. J. Getting and Lt. Col. H. W. Gillespie Jr. Besides Maryland and Virginia, the other states represented included Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and the District of Columbia.

Scouts To Hold Final Session

The final meeting of the scoutmaster training course being held by Nemacolin Trail District Boy Scouts will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at Northeast Elementary School.

C. R. Sine, scoutmaster of Troop 23, John Humbird School, has been the course scoutmaster, assisted by Ernest Fauss, scoutmaster of Troop 7, Rotary Club, as senior patrol leader.

The first two meetings were well attended by scoutmasters, assistants, committeemen and explorer advisors.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extension agents are reporting that a few extra sips of milk a day would end the dairy surplus—if everyone cooperated.

Agriculture marketing specialists say that if every person in the U. S. drank just two extra ounces of milk a day, there would be a shortage instead of a surplus.

Administration Finally Will Answer Reds Faster

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's taken the Eisenhower administration four months, eight letters and three notes to wake up to the idea it might be smarter to answer the Soviets a little faster.

The Soviets have been giving the administration a propaganda clubbing and yesterday Secretary of State Dulles said the administration was trying to "speed up its operations" so the Soviets will not have the play-all to themselves so long.

Last fall the Soviets scored an overwhelming propaganda victory by launching their Sputniks. It took this country months to get its own satellites aloft.

Last December the Soviets started making more propaganda for themselves. On Dec. 10 Premier Bulganin, in a letter to President Eisenhower, represented the Soviet Union as a big peace-lover that wanted negotiations and a summit talk to straighten things out.

It took Eisenhower more than a month to answer. In that time the Soviet Union stood before the world as the one proposing peaceful negotiations while this country tried to think up an answer.

Eisenhower finally wrote Bulganin Jan. 12. But by that time Bulganin had sent him another letter. This was Jan. 8. On Jan. 20 Eisenhower answered Bulganin's second letter with a 40-word note.

Bulganin sent another letter Feb. 1. It took Eisenhower 14 days to answer that one.

On Feb. 28 the Soviets sent a note—not a letter from Bulganin—on a summit get-together. The United States answered this March 6. But the next day, March 7, Bulganin sent Eisenhower another letter. And on March 24 the Soviets answered the American note with a second note of their own.

Meanwhile Bulganin was fading from the picture. Nikita Khrushchev became premier. Very quickly the Soviets made another propaganda score.

With the whole world worried about nuclear tests, the Soviets announced they would stop their nuclear tests. This time the State Department was ready and fired off an answer immediately.

Then on Friday Khrushchev sent Eisenhower a note on stopping nuclear tests. Eisenhower answered him Monday. Dulles—when he appeared before his news conference yesterday—seemed proud Eisenhower had answered so fast: within four days, which included the Easter holidays.

Dulles has publicly acknowledged the Soviets have been knocking our propaganda pants off. Even Eisenhower at his news conference last week admitted maybe we could have handled ourselves better.

He tossed out the idea of putting a psychological war expert into the State Department. But Dulles' boss there. He runs it pretty much as a one-man show. And at his news conference yesterday he brushed aside the Eisenhower idea.

He said this country can't indulge in the kind of propaganda the Soviets use, and went on to explain the State Department's attitude now on the Soviet notes. He said: "I think on the whole that it is important to deal with these things quickly. I think that what we did over the Easter weekend is a demonstration that at least in one respect we are trying to speed up our operations so as not to give the Soviet propaganda line a free run for so long a time as has often been the case in the past."

"I do believe that as a result of experience that we are improving our techniques somewhat . . . in terms of trying to get our viewpoint more quickly and more effectively."

One question comes to mind: Why has it taken the State Department so long—and how much experience does it need—to realize it's not smart to let the Soviets make propaganda while we hem and haw on what to do?

Songs Of Hitler's Legions Ring In East Germany

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

PARIS (AP) — The songs of Hitler's storm troops are sung again in German streets today.

They are sung by soldiers goose-stepping in the jackboots that Hitler's legions made so horribly familiar across Europe.

They are sung by the soldiers serving the Communist regime of the Soviet zone of Germany.

Newly-released NATO intelligence information gives that picture of the new East German People's army.

And NATO commented: "In the two years of its formal existence the People's army has become a formidable force of a kind which revives unpleasant memories."

The NATO report said the well-equipped East German Communist army has about 110,000 men

now. Many former Nazi generals and colonels hold high commands for the Communists.

In addition more than 200,000 other men are in para-military forces designed to fight in factories and streets if there ever is another popular outbreak like the one in June, 1953.

And in contrast, the West German republic with almost three times as many people as the east, has 10,000 less men in its army and no para-military forces.

Until 1956, the East German soldiers wore Russian-type uniforms. They looked foreign to the Germans and were despised by the population, who regarded them as renegade Germans masquerading as Russians.

But now, said NATO, "the Communists have reintroduced the familiar field-gray uniform and jackboots, the traditional regimental parade emblems, proficiency badges and other insignia."

Pay was raised. Morale rose. Desertions, which had been a problem, declined. The NATO report continued:

"The goose-step has been re-adopted and military marches of the Kaiser's army and even songs of Hitler's SS troops are again heard."

"It should be remembered that to speed up their own remilitarization the communists are appealing to German patriotism and fostering an aggressive nationalism."

George Brunet pitched five shutouts for Little Rock in the Southern Assn. last season. This spring Kansas City optioned him to Buffalo of the International League.

As long ago as 1952 Deputy Prime Minister Walter Ulbricht, the German Communist strong man, declared that when the army was formed it would be "filled with hatred against the American, British and French imperialists."

Fans Of Jazz To Get Treat On Television

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK—(INS)—Although it takes up such a large background part of all TV, good popular music does not always get the treatment dedicated jazz purists prefer.

In fact, good jazz on TV was almost at the minus point until recently. Now things are looking up.

NBC-TV's educational jazz series has gotten its first cultural downbeat. And while the initial effort was not entirely a fine show, it was a laudable try in the proper direction, using the better jazz instrumentalists and established, respected jazz experts.

Next Saturday "The Subject Is Jazz," the same NBC educational series, will star Billy Taylor, that show's already been seen elsewhere, and we will get it via TV recording next Saturday. Matter of fact, the third NBC school-for-jazz was to be presented today to the other network cities, starring Willie "The Lion" Smith. This one we get a week from Saturday.

Ah, but tonight there is something more promising than peppy jazz, blither than any schoolroom licks:

"Swing Into Spring" is the title, and it will take the place of the old Krati Theatre.

Tonight's jazz spectacular shows every likelihood of success. It stars Ella Fitzgerald, the best all-around modern girl singer anywhere; Benny Goodman, who needs no introduction even at Carnegie Hall; Harry James, Teddy Wilson, Rod Norvo, Jo Stafford.

And then, of course, there are some stars of "Swing Into Spring" whose presence doesn't enchant us at all: For instance, the McGuire Sisters.

Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander will be in this one presumably as a change of pace.

But someone here is missing the point: A jazz show running an hour doesn't need any distractions for visual purposes.

The recently demised "Seven Lively Arts" had its most successful Sunday with a program all of a piece, all jazz, all Basie and Holiday and great instrumentalists playing the finest music.

Its passing distractions of "production," arty little speeches on tapes and other fairly phony introductory matter, were looked of the program—good jazz.

Tonight's "Swing Into Spring" will have Dave Garroway as a master of ceremonies, an ideal choice. Dave has a healthy respect for the performance of jazz and knows the value of simplicity, of economy of introductions, and of stepping out of the way when an Ella or Benny or Red is ready to catch fire.

Applicants For Summer Jobs Being Sought

The City Recreation Department is seeking applicants for summer employment.

Applications should be submitted by April 25, officials said, to allow time for processing.

All applicants must file new forms, no matter how many years they have worked on the department's summer program. To be accepted are applications for about 60 positions in the playground, pool and ball field program.

Tentative plans call for the appointment of about 27 playground employees, including about 15 directors, six playground leaders, several projectionists and supervisory positions. About 15 ball field attendants will be needed to staff the ball field program and there will be about six miscellaneous posts, including laborers.

To operate the Constitution Park pool, the department usually hires about 16 workers, including a manager, checkers, lifeguards and swimming instructors.

Applicants must be residents of the city.

Former 'Y' Secretary Chides Organization

Everett R. Johnson, former secretary of Central YMCA, has chided the organization in an article in the current issue of two magazines for having "reduced" Christianity to one of the religions of the world, rather than accepting it as "truth" and "fact" from God the Creator. (2) Though we are "Christian" we are not biblically-centered. Thus the term "Christian" has a broad, ineffective, almost nondescript meaning as it is used in our name, the YMCA. (3) Few staff men really know the Scriptures. (4) Few staff men have convictions on the great doctrines of Christianity.

Easter Play On NBC Gets High Praise

Plummer Also Wins Plaudits For His 'Work In 'Omnibus'

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—A television viewer must be grateful for the smallest gifts these days in the present wasteland of give-aways, Westerns and what-have-you.

Thus one must be thankful to NBC-TV for contributing an hour to "This Prisoner Barabbas" and not quibble that it had to fall in the unsponsored time available of 1 p.m. on Easter Sunday when relatively few viewers could see it.

"This Prisoner Barabbas" by Henry Denker was an outstanding religious drama about the thief Barabbas whose life was spared when Jesus was crucified. Haunted by guilt, desiring to square the debt he felt he owed, Barabbas worked his way to an understanding of true religious faith.

Richard Kiley gave a moving performance as Barabbas. He was supported by an excellent cast of whom Robert Emhardt was outstanding. The drama, sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, was superbly produced.

"This Prisoner Barabbas" was superior in concept and presentation to most of the dramas seen on the big night-time dramatic shows, which are so fearful of religious themes. It's regrettable that a larger audience could not see it.

It's a great joy to observe Christopher Fry's love affair with the English language. His "The Lady's Not for Burning," knowingly tempered by Walter Kerr for "Omnibus" (NBC-TV), was a pleasure to anyone who feels the language is more than a semaphoric means of communications.

What matter that the romantic comedy was played too fast for slow ears to catch every nuance of meaning? Christopher Plummer was grand as a young man willing to be hung because he felt the world was coming unhinged. So, too, was a newcomer to television, Mary Ure, as a beautiful young woman accused of witchcraft who finally unhinged our hero.

Absentee ballots for the May 21 election are available at the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, according to Irvin J. Neat, chief clerk.

Neat explained that three groups are eligible to cast absentee ballots now. One group is composed of members of the armed forces. Any serviceman home on leave within 50 days of the May 20 election may go to the Board of Election Supervisors' office in the Court House basement and cast an absentee ballot.

Relatives of any serviceman who will not be here between now and May 20 in order to vote may obtain applications for absentee ballots. A second group eligible to vote by absentee ballots includes civilians who will be out of the state on election day for reasons beyond their control. The third group consists of ill persons.

April Showers For Some

The weather maps below give you the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until May. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Temperatures from now until May are expected to average below seasonal normals east of the Appalachians and generally over the southern half of the nation. Above normal averages are indicated over the northern third of the country from the Great Lakes westward to the Pacific coast. Near normal temperatures are expected elsewhere.

Precipitation from now until May is expected to exceed seasonal normals along the Atlantic Seaboard and also west of the Continental Divide. Subnormal amounts are predicted for the Great Lakes Region, Upper Mississippi Valley, and southern Texas. In other areas about normal amounts are in prospect.

Dwelling Can Be Safe From A-Bomb Effects

PIKESVILLE, Md. — The average American home with a basement can be made into an effective shelter against radiation from an atomic bomb.

Leo A. Hoegh, federal Civil Defense Administrator, says a pamphlet detailing this and other civil defense precautions will be distributed to the American Public within a week.

Hoegh spoke here last night at a dinner honoring CD directors of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City.

It preceded a day-long Wednesday conference at which the CD directors were briefed on the forthcoming Operation Alert, scheduled for May 6-7.

Hoegh told newsmen in the event of a nuclear attack the average home in an area of heavy radioactive fallout would afford protection against half of the radiation hazards existing out of doors.

A normal basement would cut the danger to one-tenth of the outside radiation, he said. And a basement which was protected by sand bags or other shielding over its ceiling and at its windows and doors, would further reduce the radiation to one-hundredth of the outside contamination.

Hoegh, governor of Iowa before taking the FCDA post last July, expressed confidence that the American people when adequately informed of the dangers and the steps needed to protect themselves, would participate actively in civilian defense.

He said civil defense is as important in deterring nuclear war as foreign aid and a strong military.

"As Americans, we like to buy our way through life. We're willing to pay taxes to buy military protection," he said. "But we can't buy civil defense."

"You can't buy protection against nuclear attacks. Americans can get civil defense only through active participation."

He said the responsibility for civilian defense rests with the leaders of government at all levels — not just local and state governments but the federal government as well. In addition, he said it required the active participation of all Americans. Given the facts, the people will participate actively, he predicted.

"The people want knowledge of the hazards and how to meet them."

After a recent nationally televised program on which Hoegh outlined some of the things everyone should learn about civil defense, he said the FCDA received

Funds Granted State Public Welfare Unit

ANNAPOLIS — Funds requested by the State Department of Public Welfare, because of the recession, have been granted by the Board of Public Works.

The department got $144,000 from the state's emergency fund yesterday, for use in case its case load continues to rise. Welfare Director Thomas Waxter said how much of the money will be needed will depend upon the economic situation in May and June.

The board quickly approved the request relayed by Budget Director James G. Rennie.

11 million mail requests for copies of the directions.

Hoegh said he felt this response demonstrated that people are eager to know what to do should there be an attack and that they are not apathetic to civilian defense.

About 70 persons attended last night's dinner, including Gov. McKeldin and heads of most of the State's departments.

McKeldin congratulated the CD directors for "the job you're doing without any fanfare and without much recognition from anyone."

He said Civil Defense is not just a standby agency but a vibrant muscle of the body of the state, as important as health, welfare, police or fire departments.

New Religious Construction Up

CHICAGO — The American Assn. of Fund-Raising Councils says new religious construction, including new buildings and remodeling old, reached an all-time high value of 868 million dollars in 1957, an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year.

New hospital construction in 1957 was valued at 503 million dollars, or 54 per cent above the previous year. Educational building, while at a high level of 519 million dollars was 3 per cent under the previous year.

The increased construction brings the total assets of gift-supported institutions in the United States to nearly 44 billion dollars.

Soviet Nuclear Tests Fallout In Britain

LONDON — (U.S.) — An Atomic Energy spokesman said today that recent nuclear explosions in Russia caused an increase in radioactive dust over Britain.

The spokesman added that the rise in radioactivity was not regarded as having "any biological significance."

Pittsburgh Span Shut To Traffic

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Traffic was banned from the 62nd street Bridge today because the span was weakened when a railroad freight car struck one of its steel beams.

A Pennsylvania Railroad car struck the bridge's main girder on the Sharpsburg side of the Allegheny River yesterday and nearly twisted it in two. The bridge deck sagged about two feet.

Local Firm Low Bidder On Road Job

Hazelwood Company Submits $1,071,527 On Route 40 Project

The low bid for the construction of 2.353 miles of U. S. Route 40 from Gilpin to west of Flintstone has been made by the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland.

The local firm submitted a bid of $1,071,527.70 as the Maryland State Roads Commission opened bids on the project yesterday in Baltimore.

Other bidders were Burkholder and Burkholder, Washington, D. C., $1,073,442.50; S. T. Brotemarkle Company, Cumberland, $1,088,063.40, and T. Edgie Russell, Frederick, $1,112,475.60.

Specifications call for grading and draining and surfacing with a flexible pavement of the area which begins at the easterly end of the Martin Mountain project completed last fall and extends to near Gilpintown, where the Polish Mountain project, slated for completion this year, begins.

The contract also calls for the construction of a three-span, pre-stressed concrete bridge which will provide a 48-foot roadway over Flintstone Creek.

This Flintstone link to the other Route 40 projects will bypass and go slightly north of the community.

It will provide a modern two-lane highway over a route which will be 90 per cent relocated and fairly flat.

It will provide one lane of what will ultimately become a dual highway, and the SRC has secured rights of way for the dualization program.

Childress Indicted By Grand Jury

Cortez W. Childress, 34, of Potomac Park, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of obstructing justice.

The four-count indictment charges that last October 7, Childress, "unlawfully and corruptly" caused Doris Jean Ralston, 20, of this city, to absent herself from attending as a witness to give evidence before the grand jury last October 8.

Miss Ralston was one of three girls under the age of 21 who testified they were served alcoholic beverage at Al's Chateau and the Cadillac Lounge last June 11. The licenses of both establishments were suspended for some time by the County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. This happened after the license holders were convicted of the unlawful sales.

Childress was arrested January 24 by County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya and he has been free under $2,500 bond since then, pending action of the April grand jury.

Childress' name figured in the trial January 27 of James Edward Earsom, 49, of 12 North Mechanic Street, who was charged with obstructing justice by transporting Miss Ralston and Betty Lou Pryor, 19, also of this city, to Washington last October 7.

Both Miss Ralston and Miss Pryor identified Childress then as the man who picked them up at Burkhardt's in the Wiley Ford area last October 7 and drove them to the vicinity of the B&O YMCA. There, they testified, Miss Pryor got in another car with Earsom while Childress drove Miss Ralston to the top of Green Ridge Mountain. Miss Ralston testified that Childress gave her $150 at the top of Green Ridge to pay their expenses while in the Washington area. They identified Earsom as the man who drove them both from Green Ridge to Washington. Earsom drew a 60-day sentence in the County Jail.

The indictment of Childress is the first obtained by James S. Getty as state's attorney since he took office recently.

Equity Suits Filed

One Indictment Returned By Jury

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris remarked in his charge to the April grand jury Monday, the incidence of crime in Allegany County appears to be at its lowest point in years.

The grand jury in its report to Judge Harris today after completing its work, listed only one indictment. This is the lowest number of indictments ever returned in Allegany County within the memory of attaches at the Court House.

The grand jurors were in session three days, on a technical basis, but actually completed its deliberations yesterday afternoon. They reported today to make their report to the Circuit Court and were excused by Judge Harris until they might be needed.

Short Report

Comprising only slightly more than three typewritten pages, the report was also one of the shortest ever presented.

A number of recommendations were made by the jurors, including a suggestion that police training at the Federal Bureau of Investigation be adopted for all law enforcement officers in the county. Judge Harris also made this suggestion in his charge.

The grand jury again brought to the attention of the police chief of Cumberland the blocking of city streets by locomotives at crossings for periods in excess of five minutes as set forth in the city code. Chief R. Emmett Flynn said he has contacted representatives of the B&O Railroad Company regarding this situation and has further ordered all members of the Police Department to enforce that part of the code covering the violation.

BISHOP HODGES

Holy Name Unit To Hear Bishop Speak

Former Resident To Address Meeting Sunday Morning

Most Rev. Joseph H. Hodges, DD, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic diocese of Richmond, Va., and a former resident of Cumberland, will speak at the communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's parish Sunday morning.

William Walsh, president of the society, said the breakfast will be held in the Social Center of the parish following the 7 a. m. mass. John V. Lindner, immediate past president, will be toastmaster.

Born at Harpers Ferry, W. Va., Bishop Hodges attended the first and second grades of St. Patrick's School here when his father was stationed here as assistant medical examiner for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. Bishop Hodges received his first communion while attending the local parochial school.

The family moved to Dayton, Ohio, and then to Martinsburg, W. Va., where his mother still resides. His father died in 1948.

Bishop Hodges graduated from St. Joseph's High School, Martinsburg, and attended St. Charles College, Catonsville, before completing his priestly studies at North American College in Rome.

He was ordained in Rome in 1935 and then served pastorates at Danville, Richmond and Roanoke, Va. Bishop Hodges was director of the Richmond Diocesan Missionary Fathers from 1945 to 1955.

He was consecrated at first auxiliary bishop of the Richmond diocese in ceremonies at the cathedral there in 1952, and became pastor of St. Peter's Church, Richmond, in 1955.

Right Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's and spiritual director of the Holy Name Society, said Bishop Hodges will celebrate the 7 a. m. mass Sunday. He will arrive here Saturday evening and remain overnight at the rectory, Msgr. Kilkenny said.

The unit will elect officers following the dinner. A movie will be shown.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Catherine Matthews, Mrs. Anna Paige, Mrs. Louise Powell, Mrs. Charles Yates, Mrs. Mary Stewart, Mrs. Bertha Davis and Mrs. Viola Lytle.

PTA To Hold Annual Dinner

The Parent-Teacher Association of Carver High School will hold its annual dinner meeting tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at the school.

The unit will elect officers following the dinner. A movie will be shown.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Catherine Matthews, Mrs. Anna Paige, Mrs. Louise Powell, Mrs. Charles Yates, Mrs. Mary Stewart, Mrs. Bertha Davis and Mrs. Viola Lytle.

Tawes Slate Keeps Busy In Charles Area

Mayor Introduced As Senator D'Alessandro By Head Of Ticket

By The Associated Press
Charles County, with La Plata its only city of any size, could hardly be considered a politician's paradise. A candidate would have to hustle to find enough hands to shake.

But this Southern Maryland county with a population of 23,400—the state's smallest—is the exact spot picked by Maryland's Democratic "harmony" candidates to launch their statewide campaign tour.

The candidates are State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes for governor, Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro for U.S. Senate, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-nomination and Senate President Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller.

Stay On Job

They beat the bushes until after dark yesterday, hitting such places as Benedict, Nanjemoy, Pisgah, Ryans Road and others too small to have a name.

It wasn't population but proportional votes that brought the politicians to Charles County. Unit votes in the May 20 primary count much more proportionally in Charles, where one vote equals about six of Baltimore City's Third Legislative District.

Tawes, Sybert and Goldstein have little worry about getting votes in Charles. So Mayor D'Alessandro became the star of the troupe and was introduced as "Senator D'Alessandro" at every stop by Tawes.

Most of the other campaigning was confined to the crowded race for the Senate nomination and four of D'Alessandro's opponents were heard from.

Favors More Testing

Alden Potter of Carderock, Montgomery County, told a Baltimore television audience that the United States should continue its bomb testing.

Potter described himself as a segregationist candidate and "a retired scientist and farmer who carries molecular models with him onto the platform." The Kremlin, he said, "is seeking advantage by trying to stop our tests, either to catch up or keep us from catching up, depending on whether Russia is or is not ahead in this critical field."

James Bruce, former ambassador to Argentina, toured his home county of Carroll and neighboring Frederick today. In a statement issued through his headquarters, the Senate candidate said:

"The so-called harmony boys are trying to sell themselves to the tune of unity and victory. This is more a case of divide and conquer than unity and victory."

Sees Hard Fight

"Even the shrewdest political observers predict a knockdown and drag-out fight between (George P.) Mahoney and D'Alessandro in Baltimore City. If those two opponents believe in playing their strength then they had better hurry back to Baltimore, because they don't have any strength in the counties."

Mahoney himself, stumping Talbot County yesterday, endorsed last week's proposal by Dorchester County watermen that a working waterman be named to the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The Baltimore County contractor went a bit further to propose that a representative of the state's packing houses also be added to the commission. Mahoney said he was "very dissatisfied with the management of the TFC."

Another Democratic Senate aspirant, Clarence D. Long, scheduled speeches today in clubs of Baltimore and Montgomery counties.

In a statement confined as usual to the subject he teaches at Johns Hopkins University—economics—Long proposed a number of income tax reforms.

Long said income taxes should be made "less progressive, both at the top and at the bottom; taxpayers with variable income should be permitted to average it over a five-year period, and deductions should be permitted for commuter rides to work and college tuition and books."

Mrs. Colleen Lapp, this city. The three, each of whom have two children, are the winners of preliminary contests sponsored by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company and the Hagerstown Gas Company. The state titlist will compete for the "Mrs. America" title.

REVIEW CONCERT SCORE—The directors of the Cumberland Choral Society and Civic Symphony Orchestra are shown reviewing the score with soloists in the joint concert which will be presented Friday at 8:30 p. m. at Allegany High School. Wilton Syckes, conductor of the orchestra, standing second from right, is shown explaining a portion of the score to four of the soloists. They are, standing left to right, Herman Smith, Mrs. Smith, Joyce Zornig and Pauline Cira. Charles Sager, director of the Choral Society, is the pianist. The picture was taken at the final rehearsal of the two organizations, last night.

Three Judges Selected For Contest Here

The judges for the "Mrs. Maryland" homemaking contest here tomorrow and Friday have been announced by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, host for the event.

They are Mrs. Elizabeth Hanlin, of the Home Economics Department of Potomac State College, Keyser; Mrs. Virginia Carney, home economics director for the Hagan Chemical Company of Pittsburgh; and Mrs. Hubert A. Tyler of Pittsburgh, a former home economist.

Future projects that will be sponsored by the Jewish Youth of Cumberland were outlined at a recent meeting in the Beth Jacob vestry.

Jeffrey Getz, president, said the organization will conduct a "Building Spiritual Bridges" fund-raising campaign. Members will conduct a door-to-door solicitation Sunday, April 20, during which each Jewish family in the city will be asked to contribute $2.00 towards strengthening the ties between the United States and Israel. Richard Getz was named chairman.

Dorothy Glosser of Johnstown, president of the Penn-Mar subdivision of the organization, outlined plans for a Kins that will be held here May 2-4. The theme will be "If I Forget Thee, O Jerusalem."

Appointed as chairman for the program were Arnold Zaks, services; Harold Hersch, housing; Paul Ossip, discussions; Jane Hirsch, dinner; Susan Davidson, publicity; and Linda Pariser and Judy Freedman, dance.

A nominating committee composed of Getz, James Kaufman and Susan Davidson was appointed to select a slate of officers for the 1958-59 year. The election will take place at the next general meeting.

The league hopes to have 12,000 lucky bucks on hand when the campaign is ended this month. So, if you haven't done so, mail in your dollar for the crippled youngsters.

B&O Savings On Trains Set At $877,000

Railroad Wants To Discontinue No. 24 34-734 Passengers

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — A general passenger agent for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad testified today that the discontinuance of certain trains in West Virginia would save the company $877,000 annually.

R.H. Holter of Baltimore was one of two B. & O. witnesses who testified today during the hearing before the Public Service Commission on the carrier's request to end two passenger runs.

They are No. 24 from Parkersburg to Cumberland, Md., and No. 34-734 between Cumberland and Washington, D.C., via points in West Virginia.

Holter said the railroad's out-of-pocket loss on these trains was $200,000 a year. He asserted their discontinuance, as well as that of two non-scheduled mail and express trains linked with them and serving the area, would save the railroad the $877,000.

B. & O. over-all operations showed a loss of about one million dollars in February, the first deficit since 1951.

The railroad has furloughed 15,000 crew members, 30 per cent of its total force, a B. & O. attorney told a newsman.

Two railroad brotherhood representatives who appeared at the hearing estimated that the proposed discontinuances would put 20 or more crewmen out of work.

J. M. Houchins of Bluefield, state legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and C.E. Miller of Hinton, chairman of the West Virginia State Legislative Committee of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, appeared at the hearing as intervenors.

Mrs. Oscar Lease To Head Mineral Area PTA Council

FORT ASHBY — Advocating aggressive steadily and is continuing to grow.

He outlined an incentive approach to school children programs which did not pass the legislature, this term. It included eight points:

- (1) Get away from uniformity;
- (2) Curriculum should be flexible;
- (3) Should be no state mandates, county should control program, a local responsibility;
- (4) Provisions for long range planning; improvement instead of general improvement;
- (5) Better means of involving local citizens in counties. The citizens' committee should become a permanent one in the county;
- (6) Some method devised to get away from state support and be more on a local support; and
- (7) Should be some reward from state level for doing certain things by the county; state would match money of county if some county worked on a project.

Robrbaugh was introduced at the annual dinner meeting by Mrs. Oscar Lease, program chairman. Mrs. Lowell Manning, president, presided. Rev. Alonzo Harmon gave the invocation. Laurin Swisher led group singing with Mrs. Clara Fisher at the piano.

Robrbaugh spoke on the progress of the first half of the 20th Century and cited that scientists, skilled individuals, inventors and technicians produced through the nation's education system and who got their foundations in public schools list many accomplishments.

During this half-century, he noted, the world has seen the growth of the railroad, followed by its decline as the automobile and airplane came onto the scene. He noted the rise and decline of radio as television began to take over. The expansion of a vast system of telephone communications, motion pictures for entertainment and education, the participation of the nation in two great World Wars, the production of Polio vaccine and many other accomplishments are listed in the past 50 years, he declared.

Robrbaugh pointed out that the county unit system for public schools, with a nine-month term and equal opportunity for all children was born in an era of economic depression, yet has produced

Keyser Area Youths Held For Assault

KEYSER — Three young men, charged with felonious assault, are being held in Mineral County Jail here on $1,000 bond for action of the grand jury which convenes next Tuesday.

The trio, Francis Zacot, Fred Linaburg and Byron Wotring, all of the Keyser area, waived a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Madelyn Bazile Monday.

The three are alleged to have participated in the dragging of Paul Roderick, 25, of Piedmont, by an automobile March 24 in Piedmont.

West Virginia authorities said Linaburg is believed to have been the driver of the car while Wotring and Zacot allegedly held Roderick's arms as the vehicle started up, dragging the victim a considerable distance in the street.

Three other youths are said to have been riding in the car when the incident happened. Miss Bazile said last night they will be called as material witnesses in the case.

One, Lynwood Thorn, 22, of McAllen Highway, already is serving a 60-day sentence in the Keyser jail for throwing a beer bottle into a juke box in a Piedmont business establishment the same evening the dragging incident occurred. The other two have been identified by authorities as Terry Maine and Gary Burgess of Keyser.

Maryland authorities also have expressed interest in the six youths in connection with another assault case near Lonaconing. A detainer warrant has been placed against Thorn in the case. Allegany County officials stated.

All those who have registered in or since 1956, and have lived here continuously, do not need to re-register.

The biennial election for the selection of a mayor and four commissioners will be held Tuesday, May 27.

The only persons who have indicated they will run for office include Commissioner Ray L. Wilt for mayor; and for commissioner, Alvin Pence and Leo Herbert, incumbents; Harry M. Richards, a former commissioner.

A bat is as important to a baseball player as a rifle is to an Army infantryman.

One of the first things a soldier is taught, especially during war times, is the importance of a rifle, or as it is known in Army parlance, a "piece."

"Take care of your piece; it is your best buddy, your life can depend on it."

These words are impressed on a recruit to such an extent that he never forgets them.

And so it should be with a boy who has aspirations of playing baseball for a livelihood. His choice of a weapon is most important and it is well that he learns this early—when he first begins to play in the Little League.

Baseball's greatest hitters, such as Ted Williams, Stan Musial and Mickey Mantle, take the greatest care of their bats. After all, these clubs have a lot to do with the length of their baseball lives.

All bats, of course, are not the same. Some are heavy, others are light, some are short and some are long. There's a limit, though, the rule book saying that a bat cannot be more than 42 inches in length.

This leads up to what we regard as an important phase of bat selection. Too many youngsters, we feel, want to regard themselves as young "Charles Atlases" and pick out bats that are much too heavy. They manage to swing the heavy clubs, all right, but it's hard to convince them that their batting would be more effective if they toted lighter lumber to the dish.

Earl Nonnenmann, proprietor of the Sports Shoppe, says last season when Gene Stair was managing Hyndman in the Pen-Mar League he wouldn't permit the purchase of a bat that weighed more than 32 ounces. "Every bat that Hyndman bought was weighed to make sure it conformed to Stair's wishes," Nonnenmann said.

And the reasoning behind Gene's order was sound. The former Hyndman High ace, who showed a lot of promise in the Pirate farm system for a few years, said follows in the Pen-Mar League don't play every day and therefore it's difficult for them to swing a heavy bat with any degree of efficiency.

The insistence of using heavy bats doesn't only apply to the youngsters. We've seen oldsters in the Rocking Chair Softball League do the same thing. Even against fireball pitching, they'd swing the heaviest bat available.

True, if they connected, the ball got a long ride, but more often than not they were listed in the scorebooks as out victims frequently by the strikeroth route.

There are cases in the Rocking Chair League, as in baseball, when slowball pitching more or less demands the use of a heavier stick.

The late Al Simmons, one of baseball's all-time great hitters, used to start out the season with a heavy bat and then lighten up by degrees as the season progressed. Many other top hitters are in the habit of doing the same thing.

Even the sluggers can get distance with their drives while using a light bat.

It's a point to consider, boys. Discuss it with your high school coach.

Sports Keg Residue

Claude E. (Bebe) Roth, first baseman-manager of the Johnstown Johnnies of the Middle Atlantic League in 1928, when Cumberland was a member, died several days ago in an Altoona hospital. Roth played for six seasons with Wilson (Virginia) from 1920 through 1925 and was with Johnstown and Wheeling in the Middle Atlantic. Roth hit .346 for Wheeling in 1926 and went back to Johnstown in 1927.

Chief Bender was the manager of the club for the second half of the '27 season and Roth succeeded him in 1928. Roth resigned as manager of the Johnnies midway in the campaign, but remained as a player and batted .335 for the year.

Former college athletes can expect to live as long as their non-athletic brethren but are more prone to violent deaths. These are findings from an eight-year study at Michigan State recently published by the honorary physician, Phi Epsilon Kappa.

The survey also showed that more former athletes than non-athletes smoke after graduation. There will be baseball at Ebbs Field this spring, after all. Long Island University has announced it will play seven games in the former Dodger ball yard. CBS seems bent on lining up its game-of-the-week broadcasts. . . . Announcers and stand-by announcers include Buddy Blattner, George Kell, Frank Frisch, Luke Appling and Al Rosen. . . . Ex-pitcher Dizzy Dean is the lone stranger in the ranks.

Potomac, Bobcat Nines Still After First Wins

Area College Clubs Meet Ohio Teams Tomorrow

The area's two collegiate nines, still looking for their first wins of the season, again meet Ohio competition tomorrow as Frostburg State is host to Mt. Union at Mt. Savage and Potomac State faces Ashland College in Keyser.

The Bobcats had their debut spoiled yesterday when Ashland toppled the Mountain City crew, 4-1, on a rash of passed balls in the second and third innings.

Potomac State launched its campaign last Saturday and was thumped, 18-7, by Mt. Union in the opener. The second game was called after seven innings because of darkness with the teams deadlocked, 2-2.

Lose To Newport, 18-1

The Catamounts were handed their second defeat yesterday when Newport News Apprentice of Virginia trampled coach John Fox's diamondmen, 18-1, in Norfolk.

Mt. Union walloped the Bobcats, 23-1, last spring in the Mountain City while Ashland was battered by the Catamounts in a "doubleheader" by identical scores of 14-4.

Ashland and Mt. Union are making their annual southern trip with Shepherd College being host to coach George Dugan's club this afternoon. The Buckeye State nine will also be at Keyser Friday and then closes out against Frostburg Saturday. Mt. Union ends its trip tomorrow when playing the Bobcats.

Ashland opened its invasion of the tri-state area yesterday with the triumph over Frostburg at Stayman Field in Keyser. The contest, originally slated for the Bobcats' home field, was switched to Keyser because of the poor playing conditions of the Frostburg and Mt. Savage diamonds.

Invaders Score Early

Three passed balls help give the Ohioans single while in the second and third while a pair of singles and double by Lepres' chased over two tallies in the eighth. The Bobcats got their only run in the seventh.

A single by Purtell, walk and two passed balls by John Keister sent over Ashland's first run in the second. In the third, Smith singled, stole second and third and romped home on another passed ball to give the invaders a 2-0 lead.

The Bobcats scored in the seventh when Dorrell Kline hit safely, moved to third on walks to Keister and Arch Lennox and came home on Johnny Johnson's base walkoff. Keister, however, was cut down at the plate by a perfect throw by right fielder Pratt.

Ashland collected three of its six hits in the eighth inning and scored two runs when Pratt and Purtell singled and romped home on Lepres' two-base clout.

Nolan Goes Distance

Hugh Nolan went the route for Frostburg State, gave up six hits, passed two and fanned six. Kemp went all the way for the Eagles, yielded eight hits, issued four bases on balls and fired the third strike past eight batsmen.

Kline paced the stickers with a pair of two-baggers and a single. Ronald "Butch" Young of the Bobcats and Purtell, Ashland catcher, obtained two hits each.

Sharrar Peeved At Home Town

MEADVILLE, Pa. (U)—Lloyd Sharrar says a basketball team of former West Virginia University players will never again play in his native Meadville because of a disagreement about the split-up of receipts from a game last night.

"We're never going to come back here to play again," Sharrar said after the exhibition game in which his team lost 65-57 to a team composed of former West Virginia University players.

Sharrar said the West Virginia squad was to get 50 per cent of the gross receipts. Edward R. Werley, president of the Meadville Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the game, said the agreement was for the all. . . . Long Island University has announced it will play seven games in the former Dodger ball yard. . . . CBS seems bent on lining up its game-of-the-week broadcasts. . . . ## Machen 2-1 Choice Today Over Folley

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Ambitious heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley, the No. 1 and No. 2 title contenders, battle tonight at the Cow Palace with their expected big prize still a phantom in the future.

Both hoped when they signed for the 12-rounder that the winner would get a shot at champion Floyd Patterson.

The National Boxing Assn. says it hopes so too, but the champ's manager Gus D'Amato says the undefeated Machen forfeited his chance to fight for the title by refusing a previous offer and says "no comment" when asked about Folley.

Machen of Redding, Calif., unbeaten in 24 fights, has stopped 16 foes. Folley, from Chandler, Ariz., with a 39-2-1 record, hasn't been defeated in 17 straight fights and lists 25 knockouts. The Californian is the 2-1 wagering favorite.

Both fighters him for early knockouts.

The two Negro boxers resemble each other in physical characteristics and each expects to enter the ring at about 165 pounds. Machen is 5-11 and Folley an inch taller. The reach of each is 75 inches with a normal chest of 42.

Under California rules the fight will be scored under the 10-point must system with the winner of each round getting the 10 and the loser 9 or less depending on his performance.

The bout will be telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Wisconsin Again Raps WVU, 12-2

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (U)—West Virginia University's baseball team (1-4) played Florida State here today in its next-to-last appearance of the Florida university's invitational tournament.

First baseman Bunk Holt rapped out two singles and a three-run homer to lead the University of Wisconsin over the Mountaineers yesterday, 12-2. It was the Badgers second triumph over WVU, which has lost four straight journey games.

Wisconsin broke a 2-2 tie with three runs in the seventh inning off of WVU starter Bucky Bolyard. The Mountaineers have lost to Notre Dame, 6-4; previously to Wisconsin by 6-1 and to Florida State, 14-7.

West Virginia's final tournament game will be tomorrow against Notre Dame.

Marv Throneberry Plans To Stay Up

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—When it was suggested that rookie first baseman Marv Throneberry might be sent back to Denver for his fourth season in Triple A Ball the 24-year-old slugger said:

"I'm not planning on going back there."

That was before the Yankees cut Joe Collins, another first baseman, off the roster.

Throneberry, a left-handed batter, hit 40 home runs and drove in 124 runs in the American Assn. last year but batted only .250. "He fanned 151 times last year," says manager Casey Stengel.

Healthy Hawks, Injured Celtics Resume Tonight

BOSTON (U)—The injury-plagued Boston Celtics and the healthy St. Louis Hawks, all even at two games apiece, meet in the vital fifth contest tonight in their best of seven series for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

The Celtics, crippled by the loss of Big Bill Russell and minor injuries to other key players, hope determination and hustle will pay off as in the fourth game at St. Louis Saturday.

The Hawks, stung by their home court loss, mapped a more relaxed style of play.

"We were pressing too much so as not to make mistakes and the Celtics couldn't do anything wrong in the last game," St. Louis Coach Alex Hannum said. "We'll be a different team tonight."

Russell, the 6-10 former All America, has been declared through for the playoffs because of an ankle injury suffered in the third game at St. Louis.

His top replacement, veteran Arnie Risen, was ailing with a sinus attack. Risen missed a 90-minute practice yesterday, but is counted upon to carry a heavy load tonight.

Bob Cousy still is shaking off the effects of a collision in Saturday's game, while backcourt mate Bill Sharman was limping from an ankle injury.

W. Virginia Umps Join Association

WICHITA, Kan. (U)—The Central West Virginia Approved Umpires Assn. has been chartered in the national association of umpires by the National Baseball Congress.

Under such charter, the Central West Virginia group will have jurisdiction of approving all individual umpire memberships in the counties of Marion, Lewis, Harrison, Upshur, Randolph, Taylor, Monongalia, Preston, Barbour, Webster, Pocahontas, Pendleton, Tucker, Grant, Doddridge, Gilmer and Braxton.

John Seifert of Fairmont is secretary-treasurer of the Central West Virginia Assn. It was explained that only approved members of the NBC association of umpires are eligible to officiate in sanctioned district and state tournaments leading up to the 24th annual national tournament in Wichita, starting Aug. 15.

Nagel Sees Point Kick Gaining In Popularity

SALT LAKE CITY (U)—Ray Nagel, University of Utah's new football coach, thinks the extra point kick will be more popular despite the new rule giving two points for a conversion on a run or pass.

"A lot of coaches are figuring they will go for the two points every time, but I don't think the figures will prove this feasible once they start figuring the percentages," he says.

"It's hard to run the ball over down close, and while a lot of little passes are completed now and then off the place kick formation, it won't be that easy when the defense expects a pass."

Nagel will be more inclined to go for the more certain single point than gamble on missing the two points allowed on a run or pass.

Moore Stars As Canadiens Take Opener

MONTREAL (INS)—Dickie Moore, the National Hockey League's leading scorer, is finally beginning to throw his weight around in the Stanley Cup championship round.

Montreal's opening-round rout of Detroit was almost all a story of Maurice Richard but against the Boston Bruins last night, Moore was the key man.

The hard-driving left winger, who also was the top goal-getter in the NHL battled home the deciding marker as Montreal nipped the Bruins, 2 to 1, in the opening game of the best-of-seven championship round.

It was a hard-fought game all the way, with 21 penalties called, 11 against Montreal. But it was a seldom-called one against the Bruins that led to the night's first goal.

With Henri Richard and Doug Mohns off for fighting, Boston was tagged at 11:44 of the first period for having an extra man on ice. Forty seconds later, Boom-Boom Geoffrion rapped the puck past Boston goalie Don Simmons with assists going to Don Marshall and Doug Harvey.

The Bruins knotted the count at 5:54 of the second period with Jean Beliveau in the penalty box. Defenseman Allan Stanley scored and assists went to Flen Mackell and Don McKenney.

Midway through the period, Boston's Leo Labine was sent off for trapping. Montreal mounted its famed power play and Moore knocked in the big goal at 13:52. Beliveau and Maurice Richard picked up assists.

Montreal, trying for its third straight Stanley Cup, goes for its second win Thursday in the Forum.

Orioles To Drill Before Enplaning

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (U)—The Baltimore Orioles have a morning workout scheduled here today before leaving by plane for Baltimore.

The team wound up its Cactus League schedule yesterday by losing to the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 10 innings. The loss gave the Orioles an exhibition record of 10 wins against 17 losses.

Despite this record, Manager Paul Richards was encouraged by the performance of his young pitchers.

"It's quite possible," he said, "that we are going to wind up a couple of seasons from now with five or six outstanding pitchers all 21 or 22 years of age."

Richards labeled Milt Pappas, Bert Barlow and Steve Dalkowski, all 18, and Jerry Walker, Ronnie Mueller and John Fisher, all 19, as the nucleus of a future Baltimore mound staff.

Reds, Tigers Seen Tough For '58 Race

This is the fifth in a series of eight articles containing capsule previews on the pennant outlook of the 16 major league teams.

By HOWARD SIGMAND
INS Sports Writer

Cincinnati Redlegs

Birdie Tebbetts believes his talented Cincinnati Redlegs can win the pennant this year by sacrificing power for pitching.

A lack of pitching has kept the Redlegs from going all the way in recent years and now they've traded and dealt in an effort to land hurling strength. On paper, the Redlegs promise to be tougher in 1958 than the team that finished fourth last season.

A glance at the Redlegs' roster discloses:

Catching—Very formidable threesome in Ed Bailey, Smokey Burgess and Dutch Dotterer.

Pitching—Redlegs will be rugged if new additions, Harvey Haddix, Willard Schmidt, Bob Purkey, Bob Kelly, and Bill Wight come through along with Brooks Lawrence, Joe Nuxhall, Hal Jeffcoat, Hersh Freeman, John Klippstein, Charley Rabe and Tom Acker.

Infield—Strong. Tebbetts can platoon three first basemen, George Crowe, Steve Bilko and Dee Fondy and Johnny Temple (2B), Roy McMillan (SS) and Don Hoak (3B) are solid operators. Alex Grammas is a good defensive reserve.

Outfield—A lot depends on highly-touted 19-year-old rookie Vada Pinson in right. Frankie Robinson and Gus Bell are outstanding performers and the Redlegs also have Jerry Lynch, Bob Thurman, and Pete Whisenant.

Consensus: Third place.

Detroit Tigers

The word is out in the American League to beware of the Detroit Tigers in 1958.

The Bengals have undergone a tremendous overhauling and figure to be top threats for the pennant. Manager Jack Tighe appears to have a team which could take it all if the new combination jells.

The Tiger roster reveals: Catching—Improved defensively with the acquisition of Jim Hegan. Bud Hegan, Tiny Thompson, and Red Wilson don't hit much.

Pitching—Much potential headed by Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, Billy Hoelt, Paul Foytack, Hank Aguirre, Tom Morgan and rookie Bob Shaw. Tigers could use added bullpen help.

Infield—Ray Boone is regular first baseman. Frank Bolling (2B), Billy Martin (SS) and Rene Boerio (3B) will form the inner works and much depends on sparkplug Martin. Infield reserves include Gail Harris, Mill Bolling and Lou Skizas, who also is an outfielder.

Outfield—Could be very solid if Harvey Kuenn makes the grade as a center fielder. Charley Maxwell and Al Kaline will flank Kuenn and Tighe has Gus Zernial, Bill Taylor and Stan Palys in reserve.

Consensus: Second place.
Next: Red Sox and Dodgers.

Rest Ordered For Anderson

BRISBANE (U)—Mal Anderson, the U. S. national tennis champion and one of Australia's Davis Cup stars, has been ordered by his physician to take a complete rest from tennis for two weeks.

Unless the back strain from which Anderson is suffering responds quickly to treatment, he might miss the trip overseas with the Australian team.

The physician said he would examine Anderson again after the two weeks.

Anderson won the Central Queensland and championship at Rockhampton Monday night beating John Pearce 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Since the Australian championships in January he has played in 35 exhibition matches.

Win Streaks

West Virginia will begin the 1958-59 basketball season with three winning streaks—Southern Conference victories (35), home games (22) and home conference games (22).

RAY Moore, new Chicago White Sox pitcher, relieved in only one game for Baltimore in 1957. Sox manager Al Lopez plans to use him in relief this year.

Silky Sullivan Living Great Life—Just Eats And Sleeps

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Oh, for the life of Silky Sullivan. Nothing to do, but eat, sleep and run once in a while. "All he has to do is turn and he gets anything he wants," says Reggie Cornell, stretch running wonder horse of 1958.

All the delicacies of a horse's diet are available to the 3-year-old chestnut colt, and except for a cutback on racing days, Silky takes full advantage of his opportunity to stow away the groceries.

"That colt eats about twice as much as any other horse I've ever seen," Cornell adds.

Silky needs the energy. He's become famous for dawdling the early part of a race and then "flattening out"—shifting into high gear—for hair raising finishes. Those blazing windups have resulted in seven victories in 12 races and have earned $123,950 for owners Phil Klipstein and Tom Ross.

As gentle as an old plug, Silky starts his day at 5 a.m. with a light breakfast—about three quarts of grain. Then he naps for about three hours.

The big flame red chestnut goes outside at 10 a.m. at Golden Gate Fields where he races Friday in a $10,000 mile race. Cornell waits until this comparatively late hour because he wants to get as much sun as possible on his glamor boy.

After the workout Ol' Silky gets cleaned up. He's sponged, brushed and rubbed down. After that there's a walk.

Lunch is sumptuous: A gallon of sweet feed (rolled barley, oats, corn, molasses and salt) plus a gallon of oats. Add to this several gallons of chopped carrots. Dessert is the greens and an apple or two.

With all that Silky rates another nap. He rests for several hours, then takes another walk before supper.

It's a hot meal and a big one: Five gallons of mash (oats, salt, ground flax seed, bran and a quart of dried milk saturated with hot water).

When Silky turns in, about 6 p.m., the groom turns on an infrared light. Keeps the chill off the stall.

Ohms Champions Of PE Dux Loop

The Ohms dropped two of three games in the final week of play to the runnerup Watts but finished two in front to win the championship of the Potomac Edison Mixed Bowling League.

Members of the championship team were Mary Jane Frye, Jane Frederick, Sadie Koser, Kenny Koser, Cliff Ranek and Chester Roland.

The league will hold its best season dinner May 7 at the Bedford Road Fire Hall at which time prizes will be awarded. Mary Jane Frye won a "triple crown," finishing as the top woman bowler with high game (224), top set (477) and high average (124). Hayden Phillips posted high game for the men (230) and also had high average (145) but Arnold Hartley's 527 was the best set of the season.

Pacing the Watts' final victory were Ruth Snyder, 125-354 and grade as a center fielder. Charley Maxwell and Al Kaline will flank Kuenn and Tighe has Gus Zernial, Bill Taylor and Stan Palys in reserve.

In the other match Amps topped Cycles, 2-1. Leading the teams were Elaine Miller, 146-363 and Ray Clites, 202-467. Cycles, and Nina Hemmils, 117-314 and Arnold Hartley, 181-527, Amps. Final standings:

Ohms ..... 41 Cycles ..... 42 W. L. Watts ..... 48 33 Amps ..... 42 39

Michigan State set a home basketball attendance record, drawing 101,832 fans in 10 games during the 1957-58 season.

Search Begun By Bosox For New Catcher

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs pitching is beginning to look again like the 1957 vintage. And that was pretty sad. The Washington Senators, who certainly don't figure to be pennant contenders in the American League, clobbered four of Manager Birdie Tebbetts' hurlers at Richmond, Ind., yesterday for 14 hits and a 10-3 victory. It was the third straight setback for Cincinnati at the hands of the Senators. Tebbetts continued to insist, however, that "this is a good club and the pitching has improved."

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox were reported in the market for a hitting catcher today with big Haywood Sullivan hospitalized and possibly lost for the season. Although there was official silence, the Red Sox were expected to renew efforts to obtain Clint Courtney or Lou Berberet from Washington before the opening of the American League campaign next Monday. Sullivan, counted upon to give the Red Sox righthanded hitting power, was scheduled to undergo surgery for a ruptured spinal disc today at New England Baptist Hospital. Similar operations shortened the careers of such players as Charlie Keller and Claude Passeau.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates says righthander Bob Friend probably will pitch for the Pirates in the National League opener at Milwaukee next Tuesday.

Murtaugh said the probable batting order will be: Bill Virdon, center field; Dick Groat, shortstop; Bob Skinner, left field; Ted Kluszewski, first base; Frank Thomas, third base; Roberto Clemente, right field; Gene Baker or Bill Mazeroski, second base; Hank Foiles, catcher; and Friend.

The Pirates lost 5-3 to their Mexico City club of the Mexican League here last night.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Vic Power, installed as the Kansas City Athletics' clean-up batter this spring, is leading the A's hitters with a .370 average. The agile Puerto Rican, who's better known for his superb defensive play at first base than his hitting, has collected 30 hits in 81 exhibition game at bats. He has driven in 15 runs.

In previous seasons, Power usually batted in the lead-off position. He slumped last year to a .259 average after hitting .319 in 1955 and .309 in 1956.

Olympic Head Opposing Tax

CHICAGO (AP) — Avery Brundage, chairman of the International Olympic Committee, is against adding a tax to Olympic game spectator tickets in order to raise money for the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Brundage said in Chicago yesterday that the tax issue will be discussed in Tokyo next month. It was first brought up at a meeting of the IOC last September in Sofia, Bulgaria.

Public Wouldn't Agree He said the public would not be in favor of such a tax for the amateur athletes and that he, personally, opposes the idea. Brundage also stated he did not know that the IAAF reportedly threatened to set up a world track and field championship, or so-called Little Olympics, if it does not get a share of the Olympic proceeds.

SKILLPOOL SERIES RESUMES FRIDAY

The second match in the 27-game series between K. O. Christner's and Purple Heart for the Allegheny County Skillpool League championship will be staged Friday, 8 p. m., at the Capital Bowling alley on Virginia Avenue.

The final nine-game match will be Sunday, 3:30 p. m., in the VFW Home, Union Street. Purple Heart leads in the series, five to four.

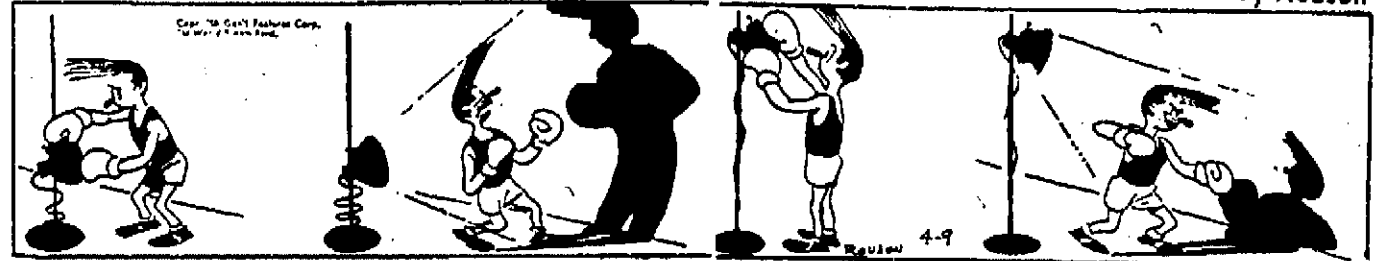

The presentation of awards and the league dinner will begin at 5 p. m. Sunday at the VFW Home. In charge of arrangements are Bernard E. McGreevy, John M. Robb, Al Taylor, Jack Diehl, Glen Watson and Harold Northup.

Endurance Champ

Art Lewis will become the undisputed champion in endurance as West Virginia football coach as he heads into his ninth season. Ira Errett Rodgers was head coach in two terms for a total of eight years.

Dartmouth's Fred Pitzner won the New England 177-pound intercollegiate wrestling title in 1957 and the 167-pound crown in 1958.

Sanford Shows Yanks Difference A Day Can Make

By FRED DE LUCA INS Sports Writer Fire-balling Jack Sanford, who showed the New York Yankees what a difference just one day can make, is confident that the passing of a year won't change his success story.

On Monday, the Yankees belted six homers to slaughter Philadelphia and Curt Simmons, 20 to 1. But yesterday the proud Bombers faced Sanford, the Phil's 1957 Rookie of the Year in the National League. The 28-year-old righthander stood the Yanks on their collective ears to hurl the Phils to a 2-to-2 victory at Charlotte, N. C. Sanford, who led the N.L. in strikeouts with 188 while winning 19 and losing eight in 1957, allowed the Yanks just six singles in eight innings and struck out six.

Whitey Ford, the Yankee ace, went the distance for New York, but he was no match for Sanford.

With the score tied, 2-all, in the eighth, Ford walked Chico Fernandez, who moved to third on a single by Willie Jones. Har Anderson's sacrifice fly brought Fernandez home with the deciding run. Jim Hearn pitched the ninth for the Phils.

Cleveland, which has been wondering where its left-handed power would come from since Vic Wertz broke his ankle ten days ago, was given part of the answer yesterday by Mickey Vernon.

The 39-year-old first baseman belted a grand-slam homer in the first inning to lead the Indians to an 11-to-7 win over San Francisco at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Roger Maris also homered for the Indians and catcher Russ Nixon slammed a three-run triple and a pair of singles. Al Worthington went four innings and gave up all the Tribe runs. Mike Garcia won.

The world champion Milwaukee Braves, who are having trouble finding enough outfielders to go around, got a bad break yesterday.

With Wes Covington on third in the 13th inning Phil Paine laid down a squeeze bunt that brought the left fielder sliding safely across the plate with the winning run in a 5-to-4 win over Los Angeles.

But Covington jammed his knee in a collision with catcher Al Walker and may be sidelined for a week.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Charley Neal of the Dodgers homered earlier in the marathon at Austin, Tex.

Clint Courtney smashed four hits, including a three-run homer, to carry Washington to a 10-to-3 victory against Cincinnati at Richmond, Ind. Pedro Ramos of the Senators went the first six innings in scoreless fashion.

Rookie Charley Rabe gave up six runs in four innings. Steve Bilko homered for the Redlegs. The Chicago White Sox scored (Continued on Page 18)

Red Rasslers Facing Busy Week In U. S.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A busy week is ahead for Russian wrestlers who are to arrive here today to prepare for three matches against an all-star American squad.

While in the state the Soviet grapplers will meet Gov. Raymond Gary; receive the keys to Tulsa from mayor George E. Norvell; see their first baseball game, as the world champion Milwaukee Braves meet the Detroit Tigers in a Thursday exhibition game here and visit Will Rogers' Memorial in Claremore.

The group, composed of eight of the country's best wrestlers, leader Mike Peslyak and U. S. State Department interpreter Alex A. Malyshev, will be headquartered at the Tulsa YMCA.

The Russians meet the American team for the first time Friday night at the University of Oklahoma, then meet again Saturday at Stillwater, and at Tulsa Tuesday.

Heading the Soviet team are Olympic flyweight champion Meriy Tsalkalmanidze, 31, and five-time Russian champion at 160½ pounds, Vakhtang M. Balavadze, 31, who was twice world champion.

The American team, coached by Clay Roberts of the Tulsa YMCA, includes top competitors at last week's AAU championships in San Francisco. Heading the U. S. line-up will be Terry McCann, two-time AAU champion at 125½ pounds and two-time NCAA titlist at Iowa and heavyweight Bill Kerslake, six-time AAU champion from Cleveland.

Back injuries have sidelined Dick Beattie, NCAA titlist at 157 pounds from Oklahoma State and alternate to Newt Coppel of Lincoln, Neb., who won the AAU 147-pound championship, his fourth AAU title.

A leg injury also may hamper Wenzel Hubel, naturalized citizen from Yugoslavia who won the AAU 174 pound championship this year. Fred Davis, Tulsa, runnerup to Hubel and a former NCAA champion will fill in for Hubel if necessary.

Top Teams Bow In Hot Rod Play

The top three teams in the Hot Rod Mixed Bowling League went down to defeat this week. First-place Nash lost 2-1 to Dodge, runnerup Ford was shut out by Buick and third-place Chevrolet dropped a 2-1 decision to fourth-place Plymouth. In the other match Mercury defeated DeSoto.

Pacing the teams were James Bloss, 185-446, Dodge; Harold Schaidt, 181-473, Buick; Herlie Cutlip, 164-458, Nash; Paul Rudolph, 162-411, Ford; Ronald Myers, 165-343, Plymouth; Nelson Gilford, 155 and John Lindeman, 366, DeSoto; Otis Metz, 151 and Gilbert Stallings, 344, Chevrolet, and Art Schade, 135-346, Mercury. LANGHORNE, Pa. — Midget auto racing, absent from Langhorne Speedway since 1947, will return Sunday, April 27, to help the world's fastest one-mile track begin its 1958 season with the 100-mile national championship classic.

One-Legged Boy Sees Action For Team In Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Gene DeLao finally realized a dream — to play in a basketball game for Denver's Manual High School.

By getting into game action, DeLao scored one of the biggest accomplishments in Denver prep school basketball history. He has only one leg.

DeLao lost one of his legs in the summer of 1956 in a motor scooter accident. After being fitted with an artificial leg, he insisted on playing basketball.

Al Oviatt, the Manual coach, promised DeLao sooner or later he'd get to play. Gene got to play.

"It was one of the biggest thrills of my life," Gene says. "When I was injured that summer, I didn't think I was ever going to be able to play basketball again."

DeLao plays in sweat pants. This fact often causes an opponent to remark, "Say, buddy, you forgot to take your sweat pants off."

"I just tell them I've got only one leg," DeLao says, "and that usually settles the matter."

ACC Perfect Marks Placed OnLineToday

By The Associated Press North Carolina State and Clemson put their young and unblemished Atlantic Coast Conference baseball records in the balance today.

State (1-0) plays at South Carolina (0-1) while Clemson (2-0) is host to North Carolina's Tar Heels in their ACC season opener. Meanwhile, Duke's Blue Devils, sporting a 3-0 ACC mark so far, have rung up a fair bid to retain their league crown.

The Blue Devils claimed their third triumph in yesterday's only game to count in the ACC standings, beating Virginia 5-4. Duke's previous victories were 3-2 over South Carolina and 4-3 over Maryland.

None of its three opponents rank high in current ACC contention—Virginia 0-3, Maryland 0-2, and South Carolina 0-1. This fact, plus Duke's far-from-shining overall 4-6 record, gave the Blue Devils little reason for comfort before what shapes up as their first sturdy test tomorrow against Wake Forest.

The Deacons will be making their ACC debut with a 6-2 overall mark. The Deacons yesterday smashed South Carolina 16-2 in an ACC exhibition. It was the fourth straight loss for the Gamecocks.

3-T Nylon makes it stronger... new process makes it last longer!

We ran a giant steam roller over this tire crushing it with 40,000 pounds of punishing pressure. Not a cord was damaged! That's because Goodyear 3-T Nylon cord is treated with a special chemical, subjected to precise tension under accurately controlled temperature for a specific period of time. This exclusive process "sets" the cord at its point of maximum strength and resiliency giving the tire built-in shock resistance.

But improvement doesn't stop with the cord! The tire itself—with a thicker, huskier, wider, deeper non-skid tread and new traction design —is "pre-shaped" to its correct inflated size. This special process relieves destructive tension and pre-fits the 3-T Nylon Custom Super-Cushion for the road.

It's easily America's most modern tire, specially built to handle modern driving conditions. Stronger, more resilient 3-T Nylon cord body with huskier, tougher tread that runs and runs —up to 26% more miles. ## Four Rookies May Open For San Francisco

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (INS) — Few managers have hit the jackpot with rookie talent to the extent that Mayor Smith of the Philadelphia Phillies did last season.

Jack Sanford, Dick Farrell, Don Cardwell, Seth Morehead, Ed Bouchee, Harry Anderson and Bob Bowman all came through for the Phils, making premature pennant dreams flourish in Quakertown.

It was too good to last, of course. The Phils, in first place in mid-July, faltered in the stretch and finished fifth. But it was great and exciting fun while it lasted.

This year, the San Francisco Giants apparently hope they can be struck by the same sort of lightning. Unless the picture changes within the next week, the Giants may inaugurate major league baseball in San Francisco with four rookies in the lineup.

All Farm Graduates
Manager Bill Rigney has been titillated by the spring showing of catcher Bob Schmidt, first baseman Orlando Cepeda, third sacker Jim Davenport and right fielder Willie Kirkland, all graduates of the Minneapolis farm.

There were times last year when it was suggested that the Giants might do well to switch teams — with the Millers. Even so, a manager hardly would want to start four rookies if he had any choice in the matter.

But Bill Rigney has had very little choice. The Giants want to make a flashy start in their new environment. They were reasonably convinced that last year's cast of characters could neither win ball games nor excite the customers.

The new collection of whiz kids seems certain to do the latter, and it doubtless is worth a gamble that they can win their share as well.

Two In Delayed Debuts
Actually, Schmidt and Kirkland are making delayed debuts. Schmidt seemed to have it made last spring, after regular catcher Bill Sarni suffered a heart strain, but the rookie fell and wrenched his shoulder.

Kirkland had a tremendous season at Minneapolis in 1956, hitting 37 homers and driving in 120 runs, but spent last year in military service.

Neither Cepeda nor Davenport was on the Giants' roster this spring. Davenport is a sleeper and may turn out to prove a March phenom but a June bust. However, Cepeda has a lot of people excited, including The Sporting News, which has nominated him as the National League rookie most likely to succeed.

The 20-year-old kid from Puerto Rico hit .308, with 25 homers and 108 RBI's last year after winning two minor league batting titles in as many years en route to AAA.

He comes by his slugging power naturally enough. His pop, Pedro, now deceased, used to be known as the "Babe Ruth of Puerto Rico."

Dave Nicholson To Start Career With Knoxville

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Dave Nicholson, 18-year-old upon whom the Baltimore Orioles gambled $100,000 to be a star baseball outfielder, will start his professional playing at Knoxville, Tenn.

The St. Louis youth will report to the Class A Sally League team April 16.

Although he had played only in high school and a league for 12-21 year olds, Nicholson was sought by every major league team except the Detroit Tigers. Some tempted him with more money than the Orioles.

His potential long range hitting power was the bait.

"I consider him one of the best prospects we have, our very best hitting prospect," Manager Paul Richards said as he sent Nicholson to the minor leagues for seasoning.

The major leagues this year eliminated their rule that bonus players had to remain on the major roster for two years or be released.

West Virginia May Eliminate High School Grid Playoffs

HUNTINGTON — (AP) — One proposal to eliminate the controversial West Virginia high school football playoffs and several others to change the system will be up for consideration tomorrow afternoon at the annual convention of the State Secondary School Activities Commission.

The commission, a part of the West Virginia Secondary School Principals Assn., supervises athletics and other extra-curricular programs in the state's junior and senior high schools. The principals commission, involving the same personnel in the parent organization, has control of academic and professional matters.

About 250 principals are expected here tonight for preliminary sessions.

The activities commission's main working session will be tomorrow afternoon and the principals commission will meet Friday.

Jonathan Y. Lowe, principal of Huntington Beverly Hills Junior High and chairman of the activities commission, said today the resolution to do away with the football playoff system would be

Eagles upset the league-leading Hawks in the finals of the Western Maryland Pistol League, forcing Hawks to use the right of the high won and loss team in league competition to ask for a challenge.

Hawks and Eagles will shoot again next Thursday in a sudden-death shootoff for the league honors.

Leo "Dead-Eye" Leasure led Eagles to their 996 to 980 upset in the finals with a 264 while Norman White topped Hawks with a 267.

Grayson Sees Yankees And Braves Repeating

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This was early last October and the Braves and Yankees headed back for New York at the end of the World Series and the bratwurst and brew and a bumpy plane ride didn't mix at all with the normal make-up of this intrepid genius.

This led the pretty stewardess to come up to us, above Youngstown, O., or somewhere else along the line, and begin to minister to us like we were her grandfather. It was a dreadful blow to the ego.

"I'll go to Milwaukee no more," was the promise made that evening.

But time heals everything and it seems that another trip will be scheduled next autumn for the World Series opening at County Stadium on Oct. 1, with Whitey Ford of the Yankees tackling Lew Saliva Burdette.

We are going to drink scotch and eat prime roast beef, as any civilized person does, this time and perhaps the stewardess will look upon us more kindly on the flight home.

Yanks And Braves
I started to write about Frank Lane's extraordinary rebuilding in 1957, nearly all of them after his recall from Wichita May 15. He cracked 21 home runs and drove in 63 runs on a .284 batting average.

Despite his open admiration, it is Tebbetts' contention the Braves won't have an easy time repeating.

"When I hear somebody say the Braves will win by 20 games," he said, "I'm convinced the guy is clear off his rocker. I predict the Braves are not going to win by five games. And they may not win at all. Winning the pennant has never been easy in the National League."

Tebbetts conceded, however, it will take a real good team to beat the Braves.

Five Syracuse University basketball players — Bill Gabor, Jack Kiley, Vince Cohen, Gary Clark and Jon Cincex — have scored 400 or more points in one season.

For a decade, the Dodgers were the National League counterparts of the Yankees. Fortunately for baseball, the Braves last fall ended World Series between them which were becoming rather boring with the same old casts. The Braves put further life back into the game by edging the Yankees in a spectacular World Series. And, with tremendous young players in Eddie Matthews and Henry Aaron, the Lou Perini company seems to have picked up where the Dodgers left off.

So here is our guess as to how they'll wind up on Sept. 28:

AMERICAN	NATIONAL
New York	Milwaukee
Chicago	St. Louis
Detroit	Cincinnati
Boston	Los Angeles
Cleveland	San Francisco
Baltimore	Philadelphia
Kansas City	Pittsburgh
Washington	Chicago

That's major league baseball's biggest trouble—it's so static. And nothing much can be done about it until they put in an unrestricted draft.

Meanwhile, the National looks more like a western league.

Getting back to Lane's remarkable reconstruction job in Cleveland, the Trader simply has gone back 10 years and is making a new start with players who were there in the first place. And there young players are coming along today. Larry Doby and Minnie Mingo are still something better in regular season play, vastly more than wooden Indians.

DISTRESS SIGNAL — More often than not, Manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers has been a picture of despair during exhibition games. The Tigers will have to do better in regular season play.

West Virginia Set To Begin Grid Practice

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Head Coach Art Lewis of West Virginia University's football forces certainly has his tent pitched on the practice field by this time so he can get a closer look at the weather on the eve of spring practice.

The prospective 1958 Mountaineers hope to get in 20 spring sessions which must be completed by May 15 under NCAA regulations. About 65 candidates are expected to open drills here tomorrow afternoon.

Lewis had much to say previously about the nasty spring weather which caused postponement of the original practice opening last March 24.

Guard Posts Problem
"Pappy" has singled out the guard posts as his most serious worry about five months prior to the beginning of the season. Two lettermen, Ed Sommer of Point Pleasant and Carl Dannenberg of Wheeling, head the list of prospects to occupy the regular spots.

Mountaineer observers will pay close attention to giant freshman Blaine Staats of Mason City, Staats, who showed last season's varsity around quite a bit in practice sessions, weighs in at 280 pounds and is expected to bid for a starting left guard position and the middle guard spot on defense.

Elsewhere, Lewis hopes that returns will form a strong forward wall. He has regular ends Bruce McClung of Rupert and Terry Fairbanks of Parsons available.

Longfellow Heads Quarters
Dick Longfellow of Spencer heads the quarterbacks but transfer student Carmen Pomponio of Youngstown, Ohio is highly regarded and freshman Danny Williams of Beckley is another outstanding prospect.

Veteran fullbacks Glen Shamblin and Noel Whipple probably will wage a terrific battle for the No. 1 post, while freshman Bob Benke of Perryopolis, Pa., bears watching.

Four veterans are expected to handle most of the halfbacking. They are Bill McClure, Ray Peterson, Dave Rider and Mel Reight.

West Virginia won seven games, lost two and tied one last season, including three straight triumphs to close the season. Old rivals Pitt and Syracuse were beaten in the last three contests.

The Mountaineers open the season Sept. 20 against Richmond. The first three games include new opponents, with Oklahoma slated Sept. 27 and Indiana on Oct. 4.

Scout Claims McDaniel Boys Can Win Flag For Cardinals

DENVER — (INS) — The man who discovered the McDaniel boys says that given the ball every four days, pitchers Lindy and Von will win 30 games and the National League pennant for St. Louis this year.

Scout Freddie Hawn, who signed up both Lindy, 22, and his 19-year-old brother, agrees with manager Fred Hutchinson that Lindy is a probable 20-game winner this season. But he goes even further than Hutchinson dares hope.

"Just give them the ball every four days and they're a cinch to win 30 games," Hawn predicts. "If they do, the Cardinals will grab the pennant."

Lindy, who helps make up one of the best gate-attraction duos since Dizzy and Daffy Dean were "burning them in" for the Redbirds back in the '30's, is given a good chance of opening the Cards' '58 season.

Has 1.55 Spring ERA
He impressed Monday by hurling seven scoreless innings against the Chicago White Sox in an exhibition game which gives him a spring earned-run-average of 1.55, with two runs and 11 hits in his last 27 innings of pitching. Hutchinson says he believes the Oklahoma can win 17 to 20 games this year.

"Lindy pitches with control and concentration, constantly working to keep the ball down," says Hutchinson. "He fields his position well, hits pretty good and is working to hold runners close."

Won 15 Last Year
Last year, Lindy, in only his second full major league season, came through with 15 victories, tying with Larry Jackson for the most wins on the staff.

The $50,000 bonus player has been tinkering with an extra pitch, a screwball, which Hutch thinks he doesn't need.

Mound coach Al Hollingsworth summed up his feelings on the matter this way:

"All Lindy needs is to change and Detroit were not scheduled."

a pair of unearned runs in the seventh inning when first baseman Irv Noren dropped a double, the tying and winning runs to come through with 15 victories, score as the White Sox nipped St. Louis, 5 to 4, at Wichita.

Baltimore's Bob Nieman hit a two-run homer in the ninth to send the game into overtime, but the Chicago Cubs scored off Jack Harshman in the tenth for a 6-to-5 triumph at Scottsdale.

Casper Joins Golf Field At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Top-flight golf pro Billy Casper has dealt himself into the 1958 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament, which gets going tomorrow, with a classy field.

Casper telephoned officials of the $15,000, 72-hole event yesterday he was leaving from Miami, Fla., and would arrive today to get in practice rounds along with Sam Snead, Doug Ford and Ken Venturi.

Casper, of Apple Valley, Calif., ranks second to Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., as the season top money winner and just above Venturi. Palmer replaced Casper at the head of the season's list by winning the Masters Tournament last weekend at Augusta, Ga., and pocketing $11,250. Casper finished down the list and took $956.

But Palmer won't be here, owing to other commitments.

The Starmount Forest Country Club proved a tough championship course yesterday for the practicing pros. Most stayed close to the 35-36-71 par on the 6,700-yard course, which was made tougher by recent rain.

The defending champ Canadian Stan Leonard and veteran Jim Turnesa admitted to coming a stroke or two under par. Leonard showed top form in holing out a full 4-iron shot for an eagle-deuce on the par-four sixth hole.

Among late arrivals were Porky Oliver, winner of the Houston Open.

Williams Ready For Pinch Hitting

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Ted Williams was available for pinch-hitting duty today as the Boston Red Sox stopped off on their trip north for an exhibition with their Memphis farm in the Southern Assn.

The 39-year-old slugger who hit 388 last season hasn't appeared in a spring training game this year because of an ankle injury and a pulled muscle in the side.

"It hurts me to run, but I hope the second shot of cortisone I had the other day will help as much as the first one," Williams said. "My side doesn't bother me a bit. I still hope to be able to open the season."

Critics Name Top '57 Plays

NEW YORK — (INS) — "Look Homeward Angel" has won the plaudits of the New York Critics Circle as the best American play of the season.

The intensely moving dramatization by Ketti Frings of Thomas Wolfe's autobiographical novel led its division by a wide margin, winning 5 of the 19 votes cast yesterday.

"The Music Man," with book, lyrics and music by Meredith Willson, was picked as the best musical on the second ballot. The sketch of Iowa life in 1912 was tied for top honors with "West Side Story" until John Chapman of the Daily News switched his selection.

"Look Back in Anger," John Osborne's drama about Britain's angry young men, was an easy winner in the contest for the best foreign play award.

The critics' selections heaped new honors on Kermit Bloomgarden who had produced both the best U.S. play and the top musical.

U. S. Farm Exports Lower Than '57

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Agriculture Department reports that U. S. farm exports are running 14 per cent lower than last year—mainly from cutbacks in shipments of cotton, wheat, oats, rice, vegetable oils and animal products.

Latest figures, which include the July-February period, show that a drop in government-financed exports produced much of the over-all decline. Total shipments in February alone were down 29 per cent.

Heads-Up Bridge Sets Declarer

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

With 4-3-3 distribution and no honor in hearts North should have responded one no-trump instead of raising his partner to two hearts. South also strained just the least little bit when he leaped to four hearts, but if West had not been right up on his toes South would have made the hand.

West made his normal opening lead of the three of diamonds. South won with his singleton ace and saw that his only chance to make the hand would be to get in dummy to discard clubs on dummy's diamonds.

This would necessitate finding West with the ace of spades and following out his thoughts South led a low spade toward dummy. This produced considerable thought from West. The spade play looked innocent enough but it also seemed just the least bit unusual. Why hadn't South led a diamond or a trump? Maybe the diamond ace had been singleton and South was trying to sneak into dummy for some discarding.

In that case West saw that he had one chance to beat the hand. He hopped up with the ace of spades and led the nine of clubs. East won his ace and returned the suit whereupon West collected his king and jack of clubs. East's ace of trumps was still around to set declarer two tricks.

If West had ducked the spade, South would have been able to discard three clubs on dummy's diamonds and romp home with the marbles.

Adventists Oppose Blue Sunday Law

Claim Proposed
Clarksburg Program
Religious Legislation

CLARKSBURG (AP) — A proposed Sunday Blue Law, now pending before Clarksburg City Council, has drawn the ire of the West Virginia Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

The organization's ministerial council adopted a resolution that said: "Any Sunday ordinance or referendum is nothing more than religious legislation and religious legislation is unconstitutional."

The ordinance would prohibit any type of business activity except that deemed vital on Sunday. Violators could be fined $500 and draw a six-month jail sentence under the proposed ordinance which is scheduled to be acted upon April 21.

Adam F. Ruf, president of the West Virginia Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, said:

"We believe that each individual should be left free to live as conscience may dictate, untrammelled by any interference in religion from the civil magistrate."

The proposed campaign for stricter Sunday laws is one of those well-meant but misguided efforts which do more harm than good to the cause they are intended to serve.

"It is wrong in principle and based on a narrow and imperfect conception of the Christian religion. It would do far more to drive religion out of the hearts of people than to draw them toward it."

"We have no right to compel religious observance of Sunday by law."

Ruf urged that all local Adventist congregations in the state adopt resolutions opposing Sunday Blue law ordinances.

The unemployment fund balance dropped to $58,978,711, which compared with a balance of $63,386,214 at the same date a year ago.

Surplus Food Plan Rejected

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — A proposal for distributing federal surplus food to needy unemployed has made no headway with the Washington County commissioners.

They decided to take no action on the proposal last night after a meeting with Hagerstown's Mayor Winslow F. Burhans and representatives of the AFL-CIO.

President Chester Delphay said the commissioners turned down the idea because it would have required the hiring of additional personnel. He said the commissioners have no authority to approve special funds for this.

The plan was proposed by union officials.

Hunt Continues For Bus Victims

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP) — The hunt for six children still missing from Prestonsburg's school bus catastrophe is being intensified. The body of a seventh victim was found yesterday.

The body of Anna Laura Goble, 9, was found tangled in willows 4½ miles downstream from the point where a school bus plunged into the Big Sandy River Feb. 28, drowning 26 children and their driver.

Graham Burchett, who heads the search, said finding the body so close to the scene of the bus crash was a surprise. It was believed the seven youngsters had been swept farther downstream.

Before the girl's body was found searchers had worked four full weeks without success. The last of 20 bodies found earlier was recovered March 5.

James Hall, 25, of Martin, and Banner Hall, 50, his uncle, found the body yesterday. Burchett said the two would claim the $1,000 reward posted for each of the still missing bodies.

Girl Attempts Stabbing Of Principal

Junior High Student
Sent To Her Home For Drinking At School

BLADENSBURG, Md. (AP) — A 13-year-old girl who had been taken home from Bladensburg Junior High School yesterday for drinking returned and tried to stab the principal.

Police arrested the husky youngster, whose name was not disclosed, and held her for Juvenile Court. They said it took four teachers to restrain her after she lunged at Principal Harold F. Dougherty.

She used a kitchen paring knife, with a 2½ inch blade, which police said she bought before returning to school. It still had the 49 cent price tag on the handle.

Police said Dougherty took the girl to her home early yesterday afternoon and left her with her mother, a widow. But soon after Dougherty got back to school, the girl showed up again and went for him with the knife.

She was placed in Upper Marlboro jail pending hearing Monday.

SRC Powers Explained

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission has legal authority to build, lease and operate service areas along controlled-access highways, according to an opinion from the attorney general's office.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Stedman Prescott Jr. said yesterday Maryland law "specifically grants to the commission the authority to acquire lands for service areas and the authority to contract with private enterprise to carry out the purposes of the act."

Senate President Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert), president of the Legislative Council and frequent critic of the SRC's powers, has requested the opinion.

SRC Chairman Robert O. Bonnell has announced plans to build a pilot service station and restaurant on an expressway site not disclosed. If successful, the plan would be extended to other locations.

Youth Shot In Gang Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — One youth was shot in the leg and several others reportedly suffered head and face cuts last night when two teen-age gangs battled on a suburban street.

Police identified the wounded youth as Donald Schlosser, 17, of South Lawn, Md. Hospital attendants said he was shot in the right lower leg. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

A woman who saw the fight said about 25 or 30 youngsters piled out of two station wagons and a car and fought for several minutes with clubs, sticks and bottles. She said the youths crowded into the cars and sped away after a shot rang out.

Police said they had taken several youngsters into custody for questioning.
